Chemical Building of Plant Wrecked; 1 Reported Missing

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 70 persons were injured, some seriously, today in a chemical explosion that rocked a west side neighborhood.

Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn placed the casualty figure at between 65 and 73 and said 1 person was missing. Officials of the plant where a chemical building was leveled said they knew of none missing.

The blast — one employee said there were two blasts in rapid succession — flattened a one-story isolated chemical building of Helene Curtis Industries at 4401 W. North Ave.

J. C. Kimberly Dies; Son of K-C Founder

Was Associated With Neenah Firm More Than 50 Years

NEENAH—James Cheney Kimberly, 90, father of John R. Kimberly, chairman of the board of Kimberly-Clark Corp., died late Tuesday afternoon at his home at 416 E. Wisconsin Avenue.

Kimberly, son of James Alfred Kimberly, one of the four founders of Kimberly-Clark, was himself associated with the company for more than 50 years. He started his career in the paper business during summer vacations from school and after his graduation from college, began work at the Kimberly-Clark mill at Kimberly, learning the paper business from the wood room to manufacturing to office management. He was, in the early years, the company's only salesman.

He served the company as a vice president from 1907 to 1928 when he retired, and as a director from 1907 until 1945.

He also was actively associated with the Neenah Paper Company, now a division of Kimberly-Clark. He was elected a director in 1906.

and served as president from July 9, 1928, until Jan. 15, 1941, when he was named chairman of the board. He retired as board chairman and director in September of 1951.

Memorial to Father
In 1932 he provided the funds for construction of a library at the Institute of Paper Chemistry and provided for the library's perpetual endowment as a memorial to his father.

Twenty-five years later, in 1957, Lawrence College presented Kimberly with an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Born Nov. 30, 1870, in Neenah, Kimberly studied at Phillips Andover Academy and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He married Geraldine Hardin of Evanston, Ill., June 29, 1897.

Kimberly's philanthropies to his native city have been many and varied.

Founded Yacht Club
He gave the Kimberly homestead in Neenah to the Visting Nurse Association of Neenah and Menasha, and with members of his family, set up an endowment for its maintenance.

He founded the Neenah Nodaway Yacht Club in 1904 and served as its commodore for many years, and was active in organizing the Inland Lakes Yachting Association. Only recently, the Neenah man wrote and

Nikita Boasts of Inevitable Triumph for Communism

Call Off Big Bomb Blast, U. S. Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has asked the Soviet Union to reconsider its decision to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb, charging that the test would be unnecessary and could "only serve some unconfessed political purpose."

It said the United States had the materials and know-how to produce bombs in the 50-100 megaton range—and higher—but that such weapons are not essential to U. S. military needs and that full-scale tests are not necessary to develop them.

Statement Issued

A 130-word statement was handed to newsmen Tuesday night by Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, who said it should be attributed to the White House and not to President Kennedy personally.

The statement was the only official U. S. comment so far on Premier Khrushchev's announcement Tuesday that the Soviet Union would explode a 50-megaton weapon at the end of this month. A 50-megaton blast is equivalent to the force of 50 million tons of TNT and about 2,500 times more powerful than the U. S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

U. S. strategists hoped the White House statement, citing the lack of military purpose for such a test, would rally world opinion against the Kremlin.

Lure and Threat

From a diplomatic standpoint, Khrushchev's Moscow speech was seen as combining the carrot on a stick technique with the flick of a whip—mixing the lure of ne-

Finn President Visits New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen of Finland arrived here from Washington aboard a military plane today for a four-day New York visit, during which he will address the U. N. General Assembly.

He was scheduled to visit former President Herbert Hoover later today and to attend a reception sponsored by the American-Scandinavian Foundation. He will make his U. N. speech Thursday afternoon.

3 Killed, 77 Injured 1,500 Algerians to be Expelled From France

PARIS (AP)—The French government decided today to expel 1,500 Algerians swept up in Tuesday night's curfew rioting, and said this is only the start of a giant weeding-out process.

Three persons were killed and 77 injured seriously in bloody battling between police and the Moslem North Africans protesting a curfew imposed on them. The dead were two Algerians and an unidentified European. Thirteen policemen were among the injured.

11,538 Arrested
Riot squads arrested 11,538 Algerians from among about 20,000 who boiled out in the streets.

It was announced that 1,500 would be returned to Algeria within 48 hours as identity checks continue. Others are to be expelled.

The curfew, imposed to cut down on Algerian attacks on police and warfare between rival Algerian gangs, brought a call for the demonstration from the rebel FLN—National Liberation Front.

It was headed in proportions which showed a broad and insistent support of the rebel government in its seven-year fight to break French rule in Algeria.

The curfew calls for Algerians to be off the streets by midnight and for all bars catering to them to close by 7 p. m. The demonstrations underlined the massive solidarity of the tens of thousands of Algerians in the Paris region with the rebel government.

Algerian men, women and children poured from subway stations, buildings and side streets in various quarters of the city.

Test Pilot Joe Walker inspects the seared nose of the X15 rocket plane at Edwards Air Force Base in California Tuesday after he flew the plane at a record 3,920 miles an hour — with its flaps down to keep it from going even faster. The old mark was 3,647 miles per hour, set last week by Air Force Maj. Bob White. Air friction heating the nose to 1,000 degrees fahrenheit was responsible for the searing.

U. S. Garrison Begins Tests

Combat Readiness Against Aggression Being Demonstrated

BERLIN (AP) — Nearly half West Berlin's 6,500-man U. S. garrison rolled out today for a three-day test of combat readiness.

Tanks rumbled through the streets at daybreak, followed by armored personnel carriers packed with steel-helmeted troops.

There was a cold fall wind under blue skies as the columns wheeled out of their barracks and headed for the Grunewald Forest, in the American sector southwest of the city proper.

About 3,000 Take Part

Showdown in U. N. On Congo Dispute

Officials Almost Helpless Without Secretary-General

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Harried United Nations officials trying to function without a secretary-general face a showdown over the U. N. Congo command's cease-fire agreement with break-away Katanga Province.

Both the Soviet Union and the central Congo government warned they would challenge any attempt by the secretary to ratify the agreement. President Moise Tshombe's Katanga government refused to release 104 U. N. soldiers it is holding prisoner until the secretary approved the truce pact.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin accused the U. N. Congo command Tuesday of bypassing the Security Council.

He underlined the need for by agreeing on a cease-fire and an interim secretary-general to threatened to take the issue before the council. He demanded that the U. N. Congo force take action to end Katanga's secession from the rest of the Congo.

Congo Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko called a news conference and denounced the cease-fire as blackmail by Katanga President Moise Tshombe's regime.

Bomboko hinted his government would seek Soviet aid to smash Tshombe's regime unless the U. N. acted against him.

The Congo diplomat said that if the cease-fire is ratified by the secretary, "the trust we put in the United Nations may vanish."

3 Brothers Found Dead in Their Milwaukee Home

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The bodies of three elderly bachelor brothers were found in their home today on the near North Side.

Detective Inspector Rudolph Glaeser said there was no indication of foul play or sign of a disturbance in the home. He said the possibility of food poisoning was being investigated.

The victims were Frank Goertz, 70, August, 66, and Henry, 63. One body was found on the floor of the dining room, another in a bedroom and a third on a couch in the living room.

A brother-in-law had gone to the home to visit this morning and received no answer at the door. He entered and found one body. Police, called to the scene, found the other two bodies.

A frying pan containing moldy meat was found on the stove and an empty carton that apparently had contained potato salad in the kitchen. Deputy Inspector Harold Breier said food in the house would be analyzed.

U. S. Shelves Yugoslavian Bid to Buy 500,000 Tons Surplus Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has shelved at least temporarily a request by Yugoslavia to buy 500,000 tons of surplus American wheat.

State Department officials indicated this was an outgrowth of the displeasure of President Kennedy toward the Tito government because of pro-Soviet positions Yugoslavia took at the recent Belgrade conference of 25 unaligned nations.

Officials said U. S. Ambassador George S. Kennan had outlined the policy of the U. S. government toward Yugoslavia in a meeting last week with Yugoslav Vice President Mijalko Todorovic in Belgrade.

The policy in effect continues all present commitments by the United States for economic assistance but halts consideration of new programs.

Clarifies Policy
Kennan gave this answer after having been asked orally by Todorovic to clarify U. S. policy toward Yugoslavia, officials said. Earlier it had been reported that Yugoslavia sought clarification through a formal note rather than in an oral statement.

Belgrade has been asking Washington to consider the new request for the 500,000 tons of wheat, but the controversy in the United States over the sale of surplus Sabre jet planes has cooled American officials toward the request. There already had been surprise at the position President Tito took at the Belgrade conference while professing to be unaligned.

Officials here noted that surplus U. S. grain had been sold to Yugoslavia in each of the last three years.

Earlier Agreement
Washington agreed earlier this year to sell Belgrade 900 million worth of cotton, vegetable oil and surplus wheat. The 400,000 tons of wheat involved totaled about $20 million. This agreement is now being carried out.

Although no official price tag was announced, the 500,000 tons of wheat requested later apparently would have amounted to $35 million, including transportation costs.

The United States also agreed last January to advance a $100 million credit to Yugoslavia to enable currency reforms to be made which would help orient Yugoslavia more toward the Western market.

The United States has given Yugoslavia a total of $2.2 billion in economic and military assistance since the end of World War II. Direct military grant and was halted in 1957, but there have been sales of surplus military equipment since that date.

Tells of New Program for Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev told the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress today that the downfall of imperialism and the triumph of socialism on a world scale are inevitable.

The Soviet premier took the rostrum at the second session of the congress to discuss the massive new party program—its first since 1919 — which the Kremlin claims will make communism supreme and irresistibly attractive to the rest of the world by 1960.

Khrushchev told the more than 4,000 delegates in the new Kremlin Palace of Congresses that the experience of a large group of countries had confirmed that the socialist system inevitably replaces the capitalist system.

End of Imperialism
Imperialism — the standard Communist term for Western capitalism—has irretrievably lost its hold on the bulk of the world's peoples, he declared, asserting that socialism is the main avenue along which mankind advances.

In the Soviet Union, he continued, socialism has been translated into reality and this 22nd party congress will go down in history as the congress of the builders of communism.

The premier said the Soviet people's living conditions have been radically altered as a result of these "colossal transformations"—that unemployment had been wiped out long ago, workers' real wages have risen 400 per cent, and the real incomes of the peasants have risen more than 500 per cent.

3 Major Factors
Khrushchev listed what he called three historical factors of the 20th century.

"The formation of the world socialist system is the principal result of the progressive development of society in our epoch," he declared.

"The crumbling of the colonial system is the second in historical significance among the results of world development."

"The third result of world development is an acute all-around Turn to Page 11, Col. 2

Spike Heels in Madison City-County Building
Cause of Controversy

MADISON (AP) — Shoe repairman Michael Falci said Tuesday his wife "is mad as me," but he plunged into the fuss over whether women employees in the City-County Building should be allowed to wear shoes with spike heels.

Falci explained his wife's attitude by saying she works in the building and likes spike heels.

He termed "ridiculous" a request by County Board Chairman George Harb that office workers protect the building's floors by not wearing the objectionable heels.

"High heels make a woman look dressy," Falci said.

"It's not the spike heel that's causing the damage," Falci added. "It's the metal lift on the bottom of the heel." Falci, who repairs shoes for many of the building's workers, said it's a simple matter to replace the metal lifts with nylon.

Nik's Talk Brings Hope and Dismay To Western Europe

Fearful Europeans 'Clutch at Straws' Held Out on Germany

LONDON (AP) — Premier bomb, the biggest man-made Khrushchev's speech to the So-bang the world has ever known. viet Communist party Congress Four British pacifists invaded aroused conflicting feelings of the Soviet Embassy in London and hope and dismay in the capitals announced they would stage a sit-down there until the Russians called off the bomb blast. British policemen carried them out of the building five hours later. British newspapers exhibited more concern at the prospect of the massive Soviet nuclear blast than relief over the possible de-lay in a Berlin showdown. "There is no supreme military advantage to be gained in touching off so large a bomb," said the Times of London. "The purpose behind the announcement is largely political. It is meant to fill the Western peoples with fears of what may happen unless their governments concede points to the Russians over Berlin."

Prospects Destroyed

The Manchester Guardian said Soviet plans to explode the super-bomb "has destroyed the prospect of freezing weapons develop-ment and so limiting the arms race. It has also destroyed the at-tempt to start a pilot scheme for international control over disarm-ament. It has added to the pollu-tion of the earth's atmosphere by trying with new radiation. And it has to wind up labor contract nego-tiations in the auto industry with-out striking the little brother in the Big Three automotive family —Chrysler Corp.

New Strategy

Reuther disclosed a new bar-gaining strategy designed to avoid at Chrysler the strikes over local issues that shut down Gen-eral Motors Corp. for two weeks and Ford Motor Co. for 13 days.

Chrysler and the UAW agreed, Reuther said, to give priority to reaching agreements on working conditions at both the national and local levels.

In negotiations with GM and Ford, agreements first were made on a national economic con-tract covering wages and extra benefits. But local unions insisted on striking to back up their de-mands on non-economic matters.

Wages Last

Reuther said wages and bene-fits will be taken up last at Chrysler. But he said the UAW will insist that Chrysler accept the wage and benefit pattern es-tablished in settlements the union now has with GM, Ford and American Motors Corp.

Tour Continues Camel Cart Driver Spends Day in Mid-America; Visits Harry Truman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Bashir Ahmad, the Pakistani camel cart driver with the infectious grin, stopped in mid-America today to see a prize steer. He also will visit with former president Harry S. Truman.

Bashir is on a tour which grew out of chance encounter with Lyndon B. Johnson when the vice president visited Karchi in May. Johnson singled him out of a crowd, shook hands and invited him to visit the United States.

Today's schedule began at the American Royal Livestock Show for the auction of its grand cham-pion steer.

Bashir's schedule also includes a visit to the Liberty Memorial, receiving an honorary Kansas City citizenship, and the trip to the Truman Memorial Library in nearby Independence to see the former president.

Bashir arrived in Kansas City by jet tourist flight Tuesday night after a busy day in Texas.

"I am so tired I can hardly keep my eyes open," he said through an interpreter. "My face is full of fatigue."

He flashed his big grin. It is a production. The ends of his long mustache turn up. He shows his teeth. He looks straight into your eyes, and his face is all warmth.

No Heart Attack

"They told me when the camel cart driver got on the jet Comet he would have a heart attack," he said. "So I told them 'I am going to see my friend Johnson. If I have a heart attack, then what it took one day to do with let it go down in history that this a camel,'" he said.

Regents to Discuss College Chiefs

MADISON (AP)—A meeting of the Board of State College Regents Friday will include a discussion of procedures for select-ing new presidents at the state colleges in Stevens Point and Whitewater.

William Hansen of Stevens Point and Robert Williams of Whitewater will retire next July.

The board also will consider asking the State Board of Govern-ment Operations for additional funds for dormitories and food service facilities in the college system.

Traffic Deaths Fall Third Straight Month

MADISON (AP) — September was the third month of 1961 in which state traffic deaths declined from totals for the corresponding month a year ago.

The September toll was fixed at 78 by the State Motor Vehicle Department Tuesday. The Sep-tember total a year ago was 98. There were similar reductions in May and July.

The death toll for the first nine months of this year was 694, six per cent more than the 655 fatal-ities recorded in the same period a year ago.

Five counties began October with death free records for the year. They were Florence, Forest, Langlade, Marquette and Price.

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Gov Donald G. Nutter said Tuesday that until the United Nations be-comes "something other than a forum for the enemies of this country," he will not proclaim U.N. Day on the ground "this would constitute an endorsement of the present activities of the U.N."

The wartime banner must read a news conference the United Na-tions has turned into a debating society, particularly since the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

U. S. Should Have National Food Cache, California Scientist Says

Wants $15-Billion Emergency Supply Widely Distributed Throughout Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cal-ifornia scientist suggests the Unit-ed States build up a national food cache so that food enough for two years would be available within easy walking distance of every American in the event of nuclear war.

Dr. Perry R. Stout of the Uni-versity of California, speaking Tuesday to a component institute of the National Research Council, said a $15-billion emergency food supply should be widely distrib-uted.

He said the resources of agri-cultural experiment stations and food preservation industries "must be called upon for all-out research programs to develop methods for keeping foods stored for indefinite periods in the fu-ture."

He added: "In this age of nu-clear weapons, the United States is perhaps the most vulnerable of the large nations because of the dependence of her agricultural complex upon industrially sup-plied fertilizers, fuels and ma-chinery."

"Consequently, in case of many targets being our concentrated large-scale nuclear combat with primary targets being our concen-trated industrial establishments, agriculture, even though highly dispersed, will become paralyzed immediately."

Cities Reasons

Adding that agriculture in the United States could not be re-counted until its industrial base was reestablished, he said food it-cached for these reasons:

1. It would take a year to re-election officials Tuesday. For-store industry and transportation after a full-scale nuclear attack, one vote.

People Urged to Take Flu Shots

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The surgeon general of the United States urges immediate anti-influenza shots for persons over 65, expectant mothers and persons suffering from heart disease and other chronic ailments. The of-ficial, Luther L. Terry, repeated Tuesday a prediction that an out-break of influenza will occur in the United States this fall and winter.

Dog Eats Ballot

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP) — One absentee ballot wasn't counted in the Atlantic Beach runoff election. Charlie Brown ate it. Charlie Brown is a dachshund owned by Mayor-elect Henry Isaacs. The ballot was voided by re-election officials Tuesday. For-tunately, no race was decided by a full-scale nuclear attack, one vote.

Crosby in Confusion

Columnist John Crosby, writing from Berlin, has complained about a "war psychosis" he claims is being built up by United States newspapers. In such a way, he says, "embattled democracy" becomes a "victim of its own war propaganda."

The most famous case of newspapers supposedly starting a war came in 1898 when William Randolph Hearst was spouting fire and brimstone about Cuba. When one of his reporters wrote back that he couldn't very well be a war correspondent because there wasn't any war, Hearst reportedly informed him to supply the reporting while he, Hearst, would supply the war. But even this was a tribute more to the supreme egotism of Hearst than the bald truth.

Mr. Crosby complains that "here we are in Berlin, the embodiment of all virtue. The other guys, the East Germans, are the embodiment of all evil. . . One group is the Good Guys and the other the Bad Guys. Only a nation raised on Westerns could swallow such nonsense."

It apparently has not occurred to Crosby to check about news stories being sent back to the U.S. Did hundreds of thousands of East Germans flee their homes, leave their friends and relatives to seek refuge in the West? Who put up the barbed wire and the bricks? As rumors of a border closing circulated, did the exodus become a rout? And who today still burrows under the barriers, leaps from windows to the pavement beyond, slides down sheets from the roofs, swims the icy rivers? These are facts that have been reported. Exactly what sort of conclusion does Crosby draw from them? No one who has read of the flights has said the East Germans are anything except the victims, and the threats of war are to keep the West Germans, and the rest of the world, from becoming similar victims.

Crosby has to make a living and he sometimes probably throws his column together rather hastily. Perhaps for that he can be excused. But there is something far more disturbing than an attempt at cleverness or controversy in the column.

Why isn't Berlin considered negotiable, Crosby asks. "Why isn't anything negotiable rather than a thermonuclear war?" This is the philosophy of fear that through the ages has led the frightened to slavery. It is only one small step away from "better be Red than dead". As Philosopher Sidney Hook, no mere observer of Westerns, writes, "the fear of death, the desire to survive at any cost or any price in human degradation, has been the greatest ally of tyranny, past or present."

Crosby apparently has never considered what his counterpart, across those artificial barriers, might be writing, since such a man is silenced by fear or death. The only justification for the column is to point up to readers a truism written by Homer—no Western fan either—centuries ago:

"To speak his thought is every free-man's right."

In peace and war, in council and in fight."

Talk Doesn't Produce Meat, Vegetables

The Deputy Director of the Soviet Union's Foreign Ministry's Economic Department, M. V. Lavrichenko, made one of the usual Russian speeches at the United Nations last week. Among the points belabored was that capitalism was on the wane all over the world, while Communism, through the leadership of the Soviet's "productive might" was on the rise in both industrial and agricultural fields.

These speeches seem to fool the more naive members of the General Assembly. A glance at some facts and percentages indicates that Communism not only is a colossal failure in the agriculture field, it is relying upon the capitalistic countries to hold it up.

While in the United States the growth of big farms and cooperatives has been continual because of the greater efficiency and chance of profits, the tiny 1-acre plots of land the Russian peasants may retain provide most of the food. Although these small independent plots amount to only 3 per cent of the land under cultivation in Russia, their production accounts for 13 per cent of the milk, 20 per cent of the meat, 49 per cent of the potatoes, half the vegetables and 56 per cent of the eggs. In fact, they are so successful that even Red China's masters, seeing the appalling results of the forced communes, have begun giving back to the peasants a handful of land for their own.

The Red Chinese, pouring most of their investments into industry, have found famine again, no stranger to China. While the Russian grain production is some 36 per cent less than planned, the Chinese don't even dare to announce how far away their production has been from the grandiose schemes. China's efforts to buy more grain from the capitalist countries tells its own story.

Khrushchev's happy visit to a farm in Iowa apparently didn't convince him that collective farms were not the answer to the agriculture problem in Russia. As one publication put it in a prize of understatement, "after 40 years of collectivization and relentless agricultural planning, the Marxists are making it plain once again that they lack a green thumb."

Sales Tax in Sweden

The Socialist government of Sweden in 1960 put a national sales tax back into effect.

Sweden has had an income tax since 1910, and until the 1950s relied almost entirely on direct taxation to meet its budgets. During World War II, however, it found it necessary to add a sales tax to the structure and after the war this was replaced by excise taxes on certain luxuries.

It is interesting to note that while the sales tax proposal passed the Riksdag by a narrow margin in 1960, the Social Democratic Government, which sponsored the measure, was reelected shortly afterward by an increased margin of votes.

The Swedish rate is four per cent and it is a broad tax with few exemptions. Sales of food are not exempt, and a retailer is even taxed on stock he withdraws for personal use. A farmer is taxed on the value of his own produce which he and his family consume.

In World War II, the Swedish sales tax had a basic rate of five per cent but with an advanced rate of 20 per cent on certain luxuries. There also were a large number of exemptions for food and necessities. The government found it very difficult to differentiate between luxuries and necessities, hence the flat rate and broad application in the present law.

Sweden has found the combination of income and sales taxes to be a very workable solution to its money-raising problems.

In Wisconsin, it has been pointed out repeatedly, that 35 other states have a sales tax. Many have been fostered by Democratic regimes.

It would seem that the Democratic party's opposition to the sales tax on general principles in Wisconsin is somewhat outdated.

Trees — Nature's Miracle

Ever-Brimming Cornucopia

Wood Products Run Gamut From Newspapers to Explosives

Your picnic snapshots are taken on cellulose from a softwood tree. Your fountain pen and telephone are plastic that may have come from a log. Your rayon clothing comes from a west coast hemlock. Rock in the way of your vacation route was cleared with explosives made from a pine stump. The alcohol that soothes your aches and strains and the newspaper you read come from a tree.

These are a few of the estimated 5,000 useful products made from trees. One purpose of National Forest Products Week — October 15 to 21 — is to remind Americans that their forests are an ever-brimming cornucopia of materials used every day by everyone — and they are a priceless heritage.

Lumber and plywood are the familiar materials that look like wood, intimate because they go into at least 90 percent of all homes, plus great numbers of schools and churches, small business buildings and farm structures.

New techniques are adding to wood's usefulness in construction. By glue-laminating thin boards, man is producing arches and beams in graceful new shapes, and with the strength to span a 300-foot space.

Quantities of fine hardwoods and softwoods are worked into furniture and fixtures, and decorative paneling to enrich man's abodes.

But wood has many hidden faces, too. It's a marvelous raw material. It is shredded, cooked and reassembled to make thousands of paper products. It is treated chemically to produce a growing range of substances useful to virtually all industries.

Vanillin flavoring, imitation leather, gunpowder, alcohol, plastics, lacquers, molasses are but a few.

By hydrolysis, the chemists obtain from wood such substances as baking yeast, butadiene for synthetic rubber, acetic acid, glycerine for medicines, carbonic acid, oxalic acids for bleaching.

By distillation, they create another array of materials, such as acetone, creosote oils, dipentene, solvents, lacquers, rosin, pure tars.

And still the chemists have not found the full potential of wood, the one renewable resource. Lignin is Nature's wonderful cement that binds the cells of a tree together, and it forms more than a quarter of the contents of a log. But how to use it is still largely unknown.

Forest industries today can point to steadily rising utilization. Waste burners are disappearing. Poor quality logs are no longer left in the forest. Mill ends, chips, bark and sawdust are going into useful products in increasing quantities.

Pulp mills are major con-servers. In the Pacific Northwest, nearly half their raw material is leftovers from lumber and plywood operations. Once-worthless aspen forms 45 per cent of the pulpwood in the Lake states. The South produces more than half of all U.S. pulp for paper, and one-seventh of this now comes from wood scraps.

The twin stories of full utilization of the harvested tree and diversification of products dramatize the meaning of this second annual National Forest Products Week.

Many Have Gone Into U. S. Service Without Big Sendoff

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In answer to the article in the Post-Crescent, Friday, Oct. 13, in regard to "Appleton forgetting its boys who are leaving with the 32nd division to Fort Lewis."

Now don't that beat all! These boys are expected to go; some of them have been in the Guards for a long time, and hasn't the government been paying these fellows? Why some of them never saw any active duty with the regular army. Some never entered service for two years or were ever drafted because they joined the Guards. Yes many of our husbands, wives, brothers, fathers, etc. left their homes to serve their country when things were really tough. Did anybody ever give them a send off? Are these fellows going to see any action? Is there a war, they will have to fight now? Are they leaving the country? No, but still they want a big "Heros" send off. If these fellows didn't like this "part time job," and it was part time wages for many, then

Looking Backward

Capt. E. F. Pletschke Dies of Fever

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 19, 1861.

It becomes our painful duty to record the death of Capt. E. F. Pletschke, who died at Louisville, Ky., on Wednesday night, the 9th inst., from the effects of a relapse of the Typhoid Fever.

Mr. Pletschke has been a resident of our city for the last four or five years, a considerable portion of his time having been taken up with a German Professorship in Law, University where he won great honors.

And still the chemists have a teacher could wish for among his students. As a citizen his friendly social disposition and affability of manner made friendships that will not soon be forgotten.

He gallantly tendered his services to his country, was accepted, and we believe, joined Hecker's Regiment, where he received a Captaincy.

He was taken sick in Missouri, and when about convalescent, insisted on rejoining his company. He was exposed to a heavy rainstorm, took a relapse which soon hurried him to his grave.

Honored be his memory. He did not die on the battlefield, amid the clash and clamor of arms, yet he died in the service of his country. We now feel the effects of this rebellion in our midst and mourn the loss of a patriot.

The Citizen's Committee of arrangements for the funeral have exercises at the Chapel Sunday afternoon.

'Distribution' Still Tax Stumbling Block

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Doubtless the most difficult aspect of the tax deadlock settlement upon which the Democratic administration and the wary Republican legislative caucus leaders are now working is that involved in the concept of "redistribution" of existing state taxes.

Gov. Nelson has insisted, with a stubbornness that has been equalled on no other of the numerous issues in the tax revision contest, that he will sign no comprehensive tax policy changes without assurance that some of the inequities of the existing method of funneling state-collected taxes to localities will be removed.

The Republican leaders of the legislature, perhaps not so much because of the merits of the issue but out of their experience, have been reluctant and cool. There have been so many other attempts to equalize the sharing of state collected taxes that any legislative politician of seasoning is inclined to be dubious.

HOW IT MAY GO

Yet the governor retains the initiative and he is in a position to make terms on this subject. Without his signature the Republicans cannot enact the kind of a tax revision bill that is otherwise acceptable to them. Thus the situation obviously demands compromise, in the form of substantial concessions on both sides.

It is necessary to understand clearly that this is not a partisan issue as such. It is primarily a matter of territorial competition. As Sen. John Potter of Wisconsin Rapids, a member of the Republican tax negotiation team, put it the other day, the problem is not how Republicans or Democrats feel about the question, but to get 51 votes to constitute a majority in the assembly and 17 in the senate, of both parties.

The town or the city or the county which gets four or five times the per capita average in state-collected taxes because of the circumstance that it has a big utility plant within its boundaries, or has some big earners whose income tax remittances why did they join the Guards in the first place?

We all know that many families will be split up because of husbands leaving, but let us also remember that not long ago we too had loved ones that were taken from us, but they had no choice. Their time has been served and even though we would have liked that Guardsman's pay check every month were glad we can stay here now. Yes, you say. Someone has to belong to these Guard divisions and we need them. But now they are called and I feel they should have no complaints and are expected to go.

An Appleton Resident

to the state are divided with their home districts, cannot be expected to welcome any shaving of those benefits. In fact, it can be expected to fight strenuously. Some of those towns in the past have gone to the lengths of paying sizeable lobbying fees to knock down such equalization attempts.

An objective assessment of the problem would conclude that Gov. Nelson cannot get the redistribution formula he suggested earlier this year. Even with their sense of partisan discipline, some of his own Democrats in the legislature will bolt.

Republicans, on the other hand, would appear to be forced to concede that there is justification for adjusting the extreme advantages of some of the "tax islands". In fact, some of the more thoughtful Republicans do concede that and are prepared to go a considerable distance in compromising, if Nelson is prepared to retreat somewhat from his idealistic original conception.

A BEGINNING

What is needed here is a face-saving formula for both sides of the argument. A beginning can be made, upon which future legislation can build and improve.

If it is agreed that some municipalities are now being enriched at the cost of the state as a whole, there remains the sticky problem of redistributing the money.

Both parties thus far have been peculiarly adamant on the point. Both have equated need of localities for such state tax shares on the level of local tax levies, which is not necessarily relevant. The weight of local taxes also relates to individual community choice. There are prudent towns. There are extravagant towns. To measure eligibility on that factor is equivalent to subsidizing extravagance.

There are fair and accurate measures of local eligibility, such as local tax capacity. It has been used before, as in the apportionment of the multi-million dollar school aid funds extracted from the state taxpaying community as a whole. Some localities get big sums. Others get little or nothing, measured on their tax resources. Such a test might be more difficult — as in excluding Milwaukee county which Gov. Nelson's original formula favored — but it would meet the test of fairness that both parties uphold in theory.

Charlie— You've Lost A Reader

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I just finished reading the little "literary gem" by Charles House in tonight's Post-Crescent. I can assure you it will be the last time I will ever read a story or article by Mr. House.

Mr. House joins the rather large group of poison pen writers in the country who belittle Jack Paar. I hope Mr. House feels happy in joining the Winchells and the Kilgallens and their kind.

Mr. House sounds as if he were slightly ill the day he wrote the Paar poem. I don't understand how a man of sound health and mind having all of the facts at hand could ever write such a piece of trash.

Thank God for Jack Paar. At last we have a man who says what he thinks—not what some editor or advertising agency wants him to say. When Paar leaves NBC the nation will suffer a loss.

I can't quite understand how the Post-Crescent feels that the House poem rated front page attention. There were several stories on page two that should have been in its place. You could have even saved it until next Saturday.

Letter From 'A Neenah Mother' Read at Potter Church Service

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Last Thursday Oct. 12 there appeared a letter signed by "A Neenah Mother" in which she revealed her thoughts concerning gratitude and appreciation for the material as well as the spiritual blessings I wish she had signed her name. So I could write her personally and tell her. Thank you for her fine letter.

It may surprise her to know that her letter was read from the pulpit by the pastor, Rev. R. O. Walkenhorst who incorporated her thoughts in his sermon on "Don't Take Life For Granted." Yesterday was Laymen's Sunday in many of the Protestant churches in America. It is very heartening to see more and more lay people of the church becoming involved in all the areas of everyday life—even to the extent of writing a letter to the newspaper inuring the good news of God's goodness to all His people.

More power to you, Neenah Mother, and no doubt your letter will be just that bit of "heaven" needed to awaken others to be thankful for each day of life and the opportunity to be of service.

Suggests We Do Like the British People

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I want to speak a good word for the Post-Crescent about an interesting article. I was amazed when I saw in the Wednesday paper on the front page "But ones depend on Prayer, don't build any Bomb Shelters."

What is the matter with the American people that they let a few scare them into whole-sale fall-out shelter building? And then to top it all in the

Oct. 12 paper a man said that we must be needed in the shelters as much as food and water to keep the neighbors and in deep out. How long does he think he could live with his conscience in a stuffy 10 x 12 room? Remember, there would be no air conditioner or much ventilation. We should do as some people in England are doing and teach our children the Golden Rule and know that our help comes from above instead of spending millions for rockets and missiles that have a way of destroying themselves for no reason at all or maybe for the same reason that is recorded in Genesis 11:9, but nobody believes that anymore. But God is still on the throne in spite of Khrushchev or Castro or any of the atheist group.

Signed: A Grandmother who hopes and prays that her grandchildren can grow up in a country of peace and brother love.

Inventions Solicited By Council

Vast Range of Needs Tests All
Creative Minds

BY ARTHUR J. SNIDER
Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — Calling all creative Americans.
Whether you work in a posh laboratory or at a corner bench in the garage, your inventions are solicited by the National Inventors Council for the National Welfare.

The current list of needs range from a repellent for keeping birds off the track during high-velocity sled runs to a simple and inexpensive process of communicating with a space vessel as it passes through the sheath of ionized gases during re-entry.

Attract Birds

High-velocity sled runs are designed to study effects of acceleration and deceleration on the human body. The water used in braking the sled attracts birds from great distances.

To frighten them off, scientists have amplified such sounds as hawk calls, cat meows, snake hisses, bear growls, lion roars, Comanche warwhoops and most of the blood-curdling noises made by man or beast that can be recorded.

But the birds soon become accustomed to the sounds and refuse to scare. Special bird repellents placed directly on the track destroy the track's usefulness.

If a spacecraft reaches a planet, it should be biologically sterile, so as not to upset the balance of nature there. Spacecraft components now are sterilized by heart or gas.

But there is no good way to sterilize surfaces and connectors are mated during assembly. Needed is a liquid solution that can be brushed on mating surfaces and into which connectors might be dipped.

See the Runway

Aviation needs a device that will tune all airborne radio sets at the push of a few buttons. It should look like the keyboard of a desk calculator.

On his final approach, a pilot is interested in the distance from the field at which he will be able to see the runway and the runway lights.

There is now no direct means of measuring this. The device must not include placing any physical body near the glide path.

A warning gadget that will indicate to pilots the altitude, range and bearing of an intruding aircraft in the event of a course conflict is required. It should also indicate another bearing and altitude that would avoid potential conflict.

A sensor that can tell the difference between snow, rain, freezing, hail and sleet is needed. A costly and complex one is now available.

Driving a guy anchor or ground stake into a frozen or rocky soil is a tough task. A self-driving stake or rod would cut this time and expedite the placing of radio antenna masts and towers.

Anti-Missile

And, finally, what many would consider the most important invention of all—a space vehicle detector that would pick out small, supersonic objects in space at ranges of thousands of feet.

It should be small enough to be put into a missile—in other words, an anti-missile missile.

Ideas and proposals should be sent to the National Inventors Council, Department of Congress, Washington. All possible safeguards are imposed to protect an inventor's rights. Payment for an invention depends on whether it is used and in what way.

A Million Dollars to Relieve Itch of Piles

It is estimated that over a million dollars a year is spent on various remedies to relieve itch of piles. Yet druggists tell you that cooling astringent Peterson's Ointment soothes pile torture in minutes. 40¢ box or 85¢ tube applicator. Peterson's Ointment gives fast, joyful relief from itching. Be delighted or money back.

McGuffey Reader Turmoil Sends Charlie Back Into That Great Work

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Off in Twin Lakes, Wis., there's a notable rhubarb growing because four of the five members of the school board have re-introduced into their school system an elderly book known far and wide as the McGuffey Reader.

State School Superintendent Angus Rothwell has threatened to cut off state aid to the Twin Lakes schools if McGuffey isn't thrown out. Its principle fault is that it is 82 years old and, according to Rothwell, is totally out of date.

Other faults, according to people who ought to know, are that many of the words used in the reader are archaic and that there are numerous grammatical errors, and that the reader contains 20 pages which violate constitutional bans on religious instructions in schools.

Be that as it may, most of us are too old to remember the old classic reading primer, but it warrants a lingering look.

Reading it not so studiously, this corner discovered that the book is often windy and over-ornate in its prose.

One paragraph, for example, is from an oration delivered in the spread-eagle fashion of William Jennings Bryan. Few youngsters today could worm world has furnished more eminent to produce a single passage superior to the speech of Logan, a Mingo chief, delivered to Lord Dunmore, when governor of Virginia."

That is purple prose indeed, and far too ornate for those of us who have been brought up to prefer simple, taut direct sentences.

There are many poems overlaid with maudish sentiment of the kind which Americans — being what we are — simply abhor and use only in jest. One such is a doggerel piece of poetry called "Mary Dow". Mary, a poor little girl, sells matches, thus: "My father was lost on the deep; The ship never got to shore And mother is sad, and will weep."

To hear the wind blow and roar. She sits there at home, without food. Beside our poor, sick Willy's bed: She paid all her money for food. And so I sell matches for bread.

In another, titled "Harry and the Guide Post", which is too lengthy for inclusion in full the odd phraseology simply wouldn't stand up today as good usage. For example:

To the Monster Went?

So, calling all his courage up. He to the monster went. And eager through the dismal gloom His piercing eyes he bent. McGuffey's Reader is replete with odd, old, obscure or obsolescent words. A year, for example, is called on "a twelvemonth;" a father is "a sire," and the earth, elegantly, is a "sad shade of death." Much too much for the children of our generation.

Outraged modern educators are horrified at the Twin Lakes intrusion on their methods, but the fuss and feathers now in the making should not suggest that Mr. McGuffey was a fool.

And on and on and on His readers influenced more American people than any other school text ever prepared. The Readers were used in our schools for almost 70 years. From 1836 to about 1900. Though McGuffey never wrote anything for his books, he selected tidbits and with some wisdom in a wild and woolly period of our history.

One pleasant thing which can be laid at the McGuffey door is the fact that he alone built into the mind of America the need for "fair play" in sports and athletics.

His books were moralistic in tone — almost sickeningly so from today's point of view — and they preached a little over-much for modern tastes. There were no shades of good and evil; something was either angelically good or sinfully bad. And it was not all sweetness that was pounded into American skulls. Many of his selections were sad beyond belief. In McGuffey's Reader for the first grade, the first piece of required reading was the familiar "Mary and a Little Lamb." But the second, reproduced in part here, was "Mr. Post and the Little Girl."

It goes: "One cold night, after old Mr. Post had gone to bed, he heard a noise at the door. So he got up, and went out. "And what do you think he found? A dog? No. A goat? No. He found a little babe on the steps. "Some bad person had left it there, and if Mr. Post had not

Pay Schedule To be Revised

State-Prepared Plan, Not One Month Old, Needs Alteration

Appleton's new state-prepared pay plan for 325 city workers is less than a month old, and already amendments are necessary, the finance committee has ruled.

Most glaring of the oversights in preparing the plan was the failure to indicate into which wage bracket hourly paid workers should be placed in the new plan.

Although all hourly-paid personnel were to get an across-the-board 10-cent hike, the state did not clearly specify how this adjustment should be made.

The oversight was discovered when department heads received copies of the new plan, and began studying it to find out what adjustments they had to make for their employees. Department heads were not given a copy of taken it into the house it might have died with cold."

It turned out okay, though. When the old man grew too old to work, Mary took care of him. But after reviewing McGuffey with the eye of a modern, it appears that not even Mary will be able to take care of McGuffey, and he is clearly too old to work.

the pay plan before it was adopted. Eiden Broehm went to the Appleton Post-Crescent A10 ed state bureau of personnel office Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1961.

Several department heads later to discuss the error and oversights. Monday the city received a letter from the state office with the League of Wisconsin Municipalities convention in Madison last corrections. Call Off Big Bomb Blast, U. S. Asks Reds negotiations over Berlin while brandishing a mammoth nuclear threat.

A task force of State Department experts—including the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson—gathered to scrutinize all available textual matter to weigh the significance of what Khrushchev said, and what he didn't say.

The State Department said there would be no official assessment of the speech until Secretary of State Dean Rusk holds his press conference late this afternoon.

No Basic Change

U.S. officials, however, reserved any enthusiasm for the Soviet leader's conditioned offer to lift his Dec. 31 deadline for signing a separate treaty with East Germany until they are certain what he meant. They indicated that his speech seemed to contain no basic change in his views on Germany.

Salinger said earlier that the President would "have absolutely no comment" Tuesday on Khrushchev's 6-hour and 20-minute oration before the Communist party congress.

A few hours later Salinger handed out the statement which said: "It is reported that the Soviet Union plans to explode a giant nuclear bomb—the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT."

Weapon Not Needed

"We call upon the Soviet Union to reconsider this decision, if in fact it has been made. We know about high-yield weapons. Since 1957 the United States has had the technical know-how and the materials to produce bombs in the 50-100 megaton range and higher. But we also know that such weapons are not essential to our military needs. Furthermore, full-scale tests are not necessary to develop 50-megaton bombs."

"We believe the peoples throughout the world will join us in asking the Soviet Union not to proceed with a test which can serve no legitimate purpose and which adds a mass of additional radioactive fallout to that which has been unleashed in recent weeks."

No Estimate of Fallout

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman, asked how much fallout would be created by a 50-megaton blast, replied there was no way to make an accurate appraisal since such a device had never been tested. He said any estimate would be only a guess, for it is unknown how much potential fallout material might be contained in the bomb.

But from the harsh mathematics of nuclear weapons and with figures made public in congressional hearings, a picture of such a bomb's capacity can be projected.

It would carry more than twice the power of the more than 20 devices detonated so far in the current series of Soviet tests.

Its yield would come to nearly a third of that of all the nuclear devices exploded in war or tested by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain by the end of 1958 when these nations temporarily halted testing.

Discount Bomb's Value

However, most U.S. military leaders and scientists have tended to discount the value of such huge weapons. They say two 25-megaton bombs dropped on scattered targets would do more damage than one 50-megaton bomb.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday that a 50-megaton bomb is "a very unnecessary type of bomb to have. Its usefulness is limited compared to its cost."

Western capitals expressed dismay over the Communist leader's plan to explode the big bomb, and there was no sign of relief over his offer to delay signing the East German peace treaty.

A West German government spokesman said Khrushchev's announced intention to test the huge bomb was "an irresponsible act toward the welfare of humanity."

In London, Britain's foreign secretary, Lord Home, criticized the Soviet premier in an address to the House of Lords. "Until this morning, when Mr. Khrushchev said he was about to explode a very large nuclear bomb, the Russian people knew not one word from their government that it had restarted nuclear tests," he said. "So not only were the (Western) negotiators duped and the world misled, but the Russian people themselves were deceived."

weakening of capitalism and a fresh sharpening of its general crisis."

The party program before the congress was published July 30, and many Westerners immediately called it a pie-in-the-sky scheme.

Everything Free

With a target date of 1980, it calls for free rent, medical care, education, utilities, local transportation and factory lunches by then.

It also pledges to overtake the United States in per capita production, to maintain peaceful co-existence between socialist and capitalist states, to support independence movements throughout the world, and to keep Soviet military forces at top efficiency.

"American capitalism has passed its prime and is declining," Khrushchev declared, asserting that the "American financial oligarchy" does not have the strength or the means to implement its claims "to the role of savior of capitalism and its claims to world domination."

The premier said two intertwining trends are operating in the "imperialist camp": A trendly toward joining all forces against socialism, and a trend toward mounting rivalry "between imperialist powers and the other countries of the capitalist world."

"The United States has not succeeded and will not succeed in overcoming the latter trend," Khrushchev asserted.

He charged that imperialism is compelling mankind to spend at least $100 billion annually for military purposes. If only 20 per cent of that sum were spent annually on helping the underdeveloped countries, he continued, power stations could be built to produce 230 million kilowatts, steel works could be built to produce 185 million tons a year, 247 million acres could be irrigated, and many other big things could be done to improve the lives of the peoples.

Scientific Program

"All this demonstrates once again how urgent the struggle for disarmament is to all the peoples," Khrushchev said.

Turning to the new party program, Khrushchev said it was a concrete, scientifically motivated program for the building of communism, marking a new stage in the development of the revolutionary theory of Marx, Engels and Lenin.

He boasted that communism no longer has to contend with capitalist encirclement but rather is being built "under the conditions created by the existence of a world socialist system, the increasing supremacy of the socialist forces over those of imperialism, of the forces of peace over those of war."

Communist Society

Within 20 years, Khrushchev asserted, "a Communist society will be in the main built in the U.S.S.R."

"Once the Soviet Union will have become the first industrial power," he continued, "once the socialist system will have fully become the decisive factor of world development and once the peace forces the world over will have grown still greater, the scales will tilt once and for all in favor of the forces of peace and the barometer of international wealthier will show: 'Clear. The menace of world war is gone never to return.'"

He outlined these goals he said the program would achieve for the Soviet Union in the next 20 years: Industrial production nearly twice as great as the present; the entire nonsocialist world; a living standard higher than in any capitalist country; the world's shortest working day; disappearance of low-paid industrial and office workers by 1970; full maintenance of all disabled persons at public expense; rent-free modern housing and free communal services for every family.

published a book about the history of Inland Lakes yachting and the Nodaway Club in particular.

Active in yacht racing throughout his adult life, Kimberly was the first commodore of the Nodaway club, from 1894 to 1900. After the club merged with the Neenah Yacht Club to form the Neenah-Nodaway club, he served again as commodore from 1929 to 1932 and in 1942. He won the ILYA championship trophy for the fourth time in 1939 and also won the prized Felker trophy of mid-western yachting in both 1895 and 1905.

Another gift of his to the city of Neenah was a portion of the funds for the Riverside park pavilion. He also contributed to the funds which purchased the Neenah police rescue boat and he gave funds for the construction of the lighthouse and comfort station on Kimberly Point park.

He also contributed to the Kimberly Junior High School in Neenah.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, John R. Kimberly, Neenah, and James H. Kimberly, of Neenah and Chicago; one daughter, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, Minneapolis, Minn.; three sisters, Mrs. E. W. Shirk, Redlands, Calif., Mrs. Nathan Paine, LaJolla, Calif., and Mrs. Clinton Curtis, Rancho Santa Fe, Calif.; nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held Thursday with interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Neenah. West-bor Funeral Home, Neenah, is handling arrangements.

Ike Defends Sale of Jets to Yugoslavia

Former President Did Not Brief Kennedy Personally

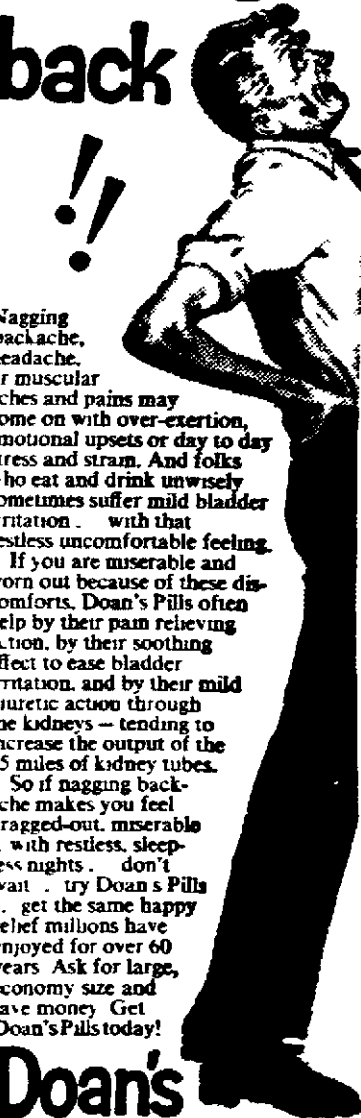

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower "when this matter is brought before Congress, the proceedings may have taken some of the heat out of the heated controversy that has rumbled over the sale of 130 surplus jets to Communist Yugoslavia," the White House version of the sale's background and the statement issued by Eisenhower were declared Tuesday that the transaction was "in the best interests of the United States." Eisenhower and the White House agreed that the former president had not personally briefed President Kennedy on the plane deal. But the White House said military aides of the two had gone over the matter. There had been published reports that Eisenhower personally had given Kennedy information on the purchase agreement during the changeover of administrations.

Started Under Truman

The White House said the sale continues a program begun under former President Harry S. Truman and maintained under the Eisenhower administration. The jet deal itself was completed under the Kennedy administration. However, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Tuesday called the deal

Most Lawrence Alumni Seek Business Careers

Twice as Many Go Into Industry as Into Any Other Occupation, Survey Shows

Nearly twice as many Lawrence College alumni go into business and industry as any other occupation, a recently completed survey shows. The survey was conducted among 83 representative educational institutions by the Council for Financial Aid to Education.

This supports a national fact that business and industry are the greatest beneficiaries of American colleges after the alumni themselves.

Of 471,000 alumni whose occupations are known by reporting institutions, 41.8 per cent are employed by business or industry, as against 15.6 per cent in education and 22 per cent in other professions.

This 41.8 per cent represents a cross-section of both coeducational and non-coed colleges. Therefore, the number is an average between the extremely high percentages from men's colleges and lower percentages from institutions that are all or part women who are likely to be drawn into homemaking.

Others Listed

Statistics from two other Midwest conference colleges and the University of Wisconsin were included in the survey. All numbers given below indicate percentages.

In the category "percentage of alumni surveyed", Lawrence reported 19.8; Knox 3.8, Grinnell 59.1 and Wisconsin 12.9.

Alumni engaged in business and Industry: Lawrence 26.5; Knox 9.2; Grinnell 26.3; and Wisconsin 15.5.

Alumni in education: Lawrence 14.5; Knox 8.2; Grinnell 13.5; Wisconsin 10.

Alumni in other professions: Lawrence 9.9; Knox 5.5; Grinnell 7; Wisconsin 11.1.

Government Service

Government service: Lawrence 2.9; Knox 2.7; Grinnell 4.5; Wisconsin 6.

Farming: Lawrence 1.8; Knox 4; Grinnell 1.1; Wisconsin 1.3. Self-employed: Lawrence 1.1; Knox 5.7; Grinnell 2; Wisconsin 8. Housewives: Lawrence 25.3; Knox 20.3; Grinnell 37.1; Wisconsin 29.1.

Inactive, retired or occupations unknown: Lawrence 18; Knox 44.4; Grinnell 8.6; Wisconsin 26.9.

Commenting on the results of the survey carried out by the Council, Frank W. Abrams, chairman of its executive committee and former chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company (N.J.), said:

Comment Made

"The business leaders who founded the Council for Financial Aid to Education in 1952 did so in the conviction that business and industry have for years been getting far more from American colleges and universities than they have given in return. We felt and continue to feel that an expanding system of higher education, strongly reinforced with a healthy and vigorous group of privately supported institutions, is essential to the maintenance of the management leadership which business and industry must have in order to progress. This survey shows conclusively where that leadership comes from, and why more business concerns must help to contribute the voluntary financial support which all colleges and universities must have in order to serve the nation effectively."

As a further check on the survey findings, the educational backgrounds of the highest 200 executives in the nation's 100 largest manufacturing companies were analyzed, using a list drawn up by the First National City Bank of New York. Of the 200 chairmen and presidents, 173 had attended college, or 86.5 per cent disability with courage and has of the total. "The Holy Spirit Will Dwell With You"

These words from the Gospel should have a mighty effect on the heart and mind of Christians.

Yet the nature, the power and the function of the Holy Spirit are not always clearly understood by many devout and sincere believers. Many, for example, disagree with the Catholic doctrine of three Persons in one God. And even though the Gospel says so, not all will agree that Christ departed this world promising the completion of His mission through the Holy Spirit.

But even if you cannot accept the Catholic belief, which dates back to the infancy of Christendom, the Gospel should impress you with the power of the Holy Spirit to inspire and strengthen your Christian faith.

Every Christian is familiar, of course, with the words of the angel Gabriel foretelling Mary of the coming birth of Christ. "The Holy Spirit shall come upon thee. And the same angelic promise to the Old Testament prophet Zachary, that he was to be blessed with a son named John. John the Baptist, and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit."

Later, in baptizing Jesus, John tells of seeing the Spirit coming down as a dove from heaven and descending upon Our Lord. "and I saw, and I gave testimony that this is the Son of God." And Jesus, in giving the baptismal formula, His disciples were to use instructed them to "Go teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

The relationship of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit to one another is one of the great mysteries of the Christian religion. But the importance of the Holy Spirit to ourselves is clear.

In His instructions to the disciples, who were to carry on His ministry and establish His church, Jesus promised that the Father will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever. This Advocate, whom Our Lord specifically called The Holy Spirit, "will teach you all things, and bring to your mind whatever I have said to you."

The coming of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles is described in the Acts of the Apostles. It was upon this occasion, Catholics believe, that the Church was born and the Apostles confirmed in grace for the accomplishment of their mission.

Christ promised that the Father and He Himself would come to the hearts of men through the Holy Spirit. It is imperative, therefore, for Christians to understand the relationship between the divine Persons and between the Holy Spirit and ourselves. This is clearly explained in a pamphlet which we will send you free on request. Write for Pamphlet No. AP-40. It will come in a plain wrapper, nobody will call on you.

National Guardsmen Entertained Before Reporting to Fort Lewis

National Guardsmen from Headquarters Company and Combat Support Company attended dances Monday and Tuesday evenings at the National Guard Armory.

The Musician's Union furnished music for dancing for the men and their wives and friends. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

The units will be leaving Wednesday, bound for Fort Lewis, Wash.

Lt. and Mrs. Don Koepke, Lt. and Mrs. Terry Ganzel and Sp. 4 and Mrs. Fred Ziegler discuss their move to Fort Lewis, Wash., during a break in Tuesday's dance. The men are members of Combat Support Co. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Delrow, Menasha, enter the Armory Monday for the Headquarters Company's dance. Below, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bauer, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Revoir, Kaukauna, gather around a table in the Armory at Monday's dance. The men belong to Headquarters Company.

Sgt. Roland Heideman cuts the large-size cake wishing the unit good luck at Tuesday's dance. Watching him wield the knife are Mrs. Heideman and Capt. and Mrs. George Meyers, company commander at Menasha. At left, tripping the light fantastic at Monday's dance, are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gassner, Kimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemberger, Appleton.

Promises Repeated in Nuptial Rite

Miss Sandra Speener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Speener, 317 E. 17th St., Kaukauna, became the bride of Thomas Derks at 11 a.m. Saturday. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jerome Koerner at Holy Cross Catholic Church, Kaukauna. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Derks, 530 Lincoln Ave., Kaukauna.

Mrs. Harry Van Neuland, Little Chute, attended her friend as matron of honor. The bridegroom's brother, Daniel Derks, Kaukauna, served as best man.

A 12:30 p.m. dinner was served at Tony Wonders Club, Little Chute.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and Outagamie County Teachers College. She is a teacher at Forest Junction Elementary School. Her husband, also a graduate of Kaukauna High School, has been employed at Steiner Tissue Mills, Kaukauna. He is a member of the 32nd Division and will report for duty at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Meeting Plans Told by Group

Pythian Sisters prepared for their Tuesday morning rummage sale when they met at 7:45 p.m. Monday at Castle Hall.

The group announced plans for future meetings. Members have been urged to attend the Nov. 6 meeting at which a complete roll call will be made. Initiation will take place Nov. 20 and new officers will be named Dec. 4. A plastics party will be held after this meeting.

Committee members were Mrs. George Weinfurter, Mrs. Joseph Mallory and Mrs. Allen Johnson.

Interior Design Show Indicates Trend Toward Simple Decor

An array of practical and aesthetically pleasing ideas for decorating virtually every room in the house is being presented in the nation's largest sweeping counter-top which curves around a corner. All the very latest in modern appliances are on display.

More than 100 distinguished designers from the nation's leading interior designers offer many approaches to styling and color in fabrics, furnishings, floors, walls and accessories to suit all tastes.

The mood of the show, which is being sponsored in New York City by the American Institute of Interior Designers, indicates a strong trend toward elegantly simple decor and away from extravagance. There is decidedly a return to dark colors. Among the predominant for 1962 are dark hues of terra cotta, deep blue and charcoal grey.

Understated dark-toned contemporary furnishings and accessories offer an air of ebony richness in a dining room designed by Darrell Landrum, A.I.D., in which the single and highly attractive decorative note is a wall of colored-glass murals in abstract pattern.

The dining table with structural steel base has a highly polished French pearl granite top, which contrasts with metal finishes in the room to define structural planes. Natural walnut side and arm chairs upholstered in wine-red silk velvet emphasize the simple architectural concept and an ebony walnut serving cabinet is complemented by oversized Mexican candlesticks.

Forward-Looking Kitchen A kitchen with an easily adaptable forward look, designed by John Hill, offers ingenious use of screens to hide work and activity areas. A wood-panel accordion "curtain" screen closes off the "curtain" screen closes off the food preparation area and fold-down screens of wood-framed Formica print fabric shield from view the washer-drier area and a hi-fi nation games chest and window seat surround the carpet and leave the center area free for play and other activities. One of the outstanding settings, a series of rooms designed by Joseph Braswell - Inman Cook, A.I.D., offers a feeling of serene elegance in subdued tones of off-white in lined-oak vinyl plank walls and vinyl floor designs in quatre-foil patterns inset in solid white. A third room, for dining, features a vinyl inset floor, herby white which is tied in with the colors of the draperies and walls. Built-in bunk beds and a combination living room and bedroom with children's room designed by Lois Monroe, A.I.D., with a hop-sotch patterned carpet in turquoise and white which is tied in with the colors of the draperies and walls. The basic colors of black, white and terra cotta.

The quatre-foil motif is repeated in the window treatment, and the window arches are repeated in an arched fireplace opening in the living room. Roll-down rush mats on the windows add texture to all three rooms, and contemporary furnishings and accessories round out the feeling of naturalness.

J. B. Brackenridge

Professor of Physics Will Present Lecture J. Bruce Brackenridge, assistant professor of physics at Lawrence College, will present the fourth lecture in the current season of lectures at All Saints' Parish Center at 10 a.m. Thursday. "Does God Play Dice with the Universe?" is his subject. A food preparation area and fold-down screens of wood-framed Formica print fabric shield from view ically striped fabric covering the walls is repeated in draperies.

An elegant outdoor setting for terrace or sunporch by John B. Wisner, A.I.D., is linked with an adjoining indoor dining place through repetition of ornamental wrought-iron furniture. Charcoal gray and white predominate, with shades of blue and green in a tropical print covering cushions of the seating pieces.

Handwoven Roman blinds using colored head inserts in white wood slats roll down to separate the dining place from the outdoor area, and a full mirrored wall injects a feeling of spaciousness into the scene.

Striking Bathroom Designer Marion Wieder, New York City, presents a striking and unusual bathroom design highlighted by walnut paneling which is repeated in detailed bamboo posts rising from the four corners of a vanity - sink.

Black and gold mosaic tiles add lustre to the countertops and gold fittings complete the rich effect.

For Informal Suburbanites John Van Koert, A.I.D., makes unusual use of wood turnings as supports for a hooded bookcase on one wall of an informal suburban living room. Wood turnings also support an attached table, and the sense of informality is continued in the furnishings and accessories, which are Americana in feeling. A printed cotton fabric covering a wing chair is repeated in a window shade and a ver-

No Such Thing as 'Lucky'

Strangely enough there is no such thing as a lucky bridge player. If a player is unsuccessful, he is obviously unlucky; if he is successful, he owes nothing to luck. He will tell you so himself.

ness. It was unlucky East won with the king of diamonds and knocked out the ace of spades. South led another diamond, but the suit broke very badly. Very unlucky.

Now declarer had to try the club finesse. That lost. And West had the presence of mind to take the rest of the spades, defeating the contract.

A very unlucky hand, since all the finesses were sure to lose. What can you do but weep a bit, shed tears and hope for better days?

No Tears

A lucky player doesn't have to shed tears about such a hand. At the second trick he leads a heart and returns a diamond and returns a club for the finesse.

If the club finesse happens to work, our lucky hero will run the diamond clubs and then try the diamond finesse. Even though the club finesse loses, he still has four clubs, two spades, two hearts and one diamond.

Sliding Panels Solve A Reader's Problem

Sliding panels for windows are actual rooms at your house, and chosen for their fashionable good looks, but there's usually a sound second reason for them. The view from the window is better hidden and the sliding panels hide it while they filter in light so attractively. The idea is appealing to Miss A. P. W., but she asks, as many letters do, how unusual window treatments of this sort are planned and installed.

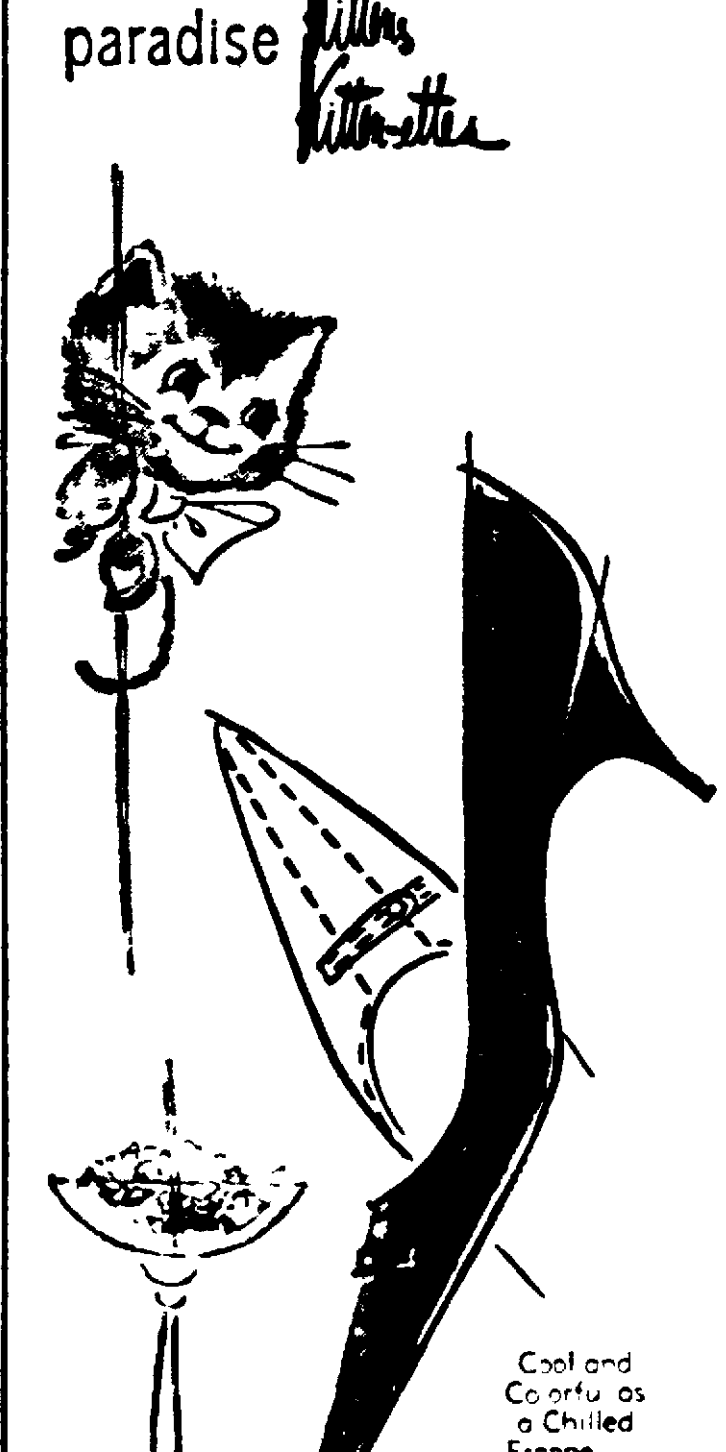

Well-supplied shade departments and shade shops show a wide variety of panel designs. Mrs. W. and are prepared to make the complete window treatment and take care of installation. The shade expert must see the windows, measure them and plan for them exactly — window groupings must be fitted exactly, which means ordering far more often than picking up panels ready-made. Some good carpenters seem to produce beauties with less difficulty than is expected once a style is determined. There are wood in natural finish, using slender wood strips both horizontally and vertically for strength and warp-resistance, and are faced with lightweight but rigid translucent plastic.

Rearrange furniture the easy way — on paper, with Elizabeth Hillier's FURNITURE ARRANGEMENT KIT 126 Cutouts of furniture, corresponding to a real thing, let you try new ideas without straining a muscle. Miss Hillier tells you how to produce tricks and tackle the right suit first!

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

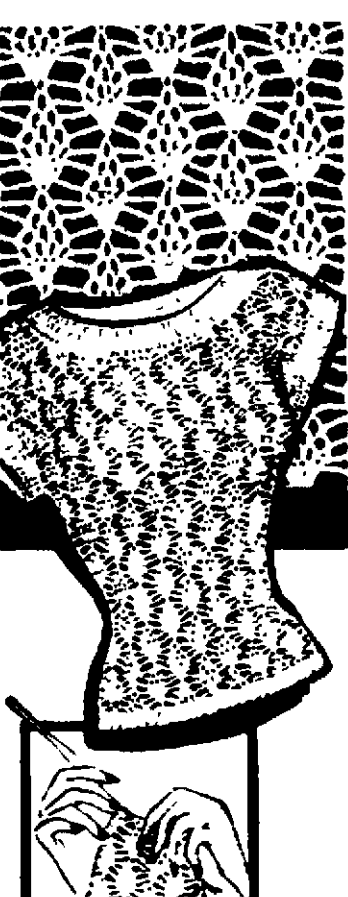

Q. My horse has brittle feet. The blacksmith has trouble nailing shoes on him, as his feet break away. Must I get rid of a good horse or is there a cure? Richard Madeline, Reading, Pa.

A Horse's feet act as shock absorbers. Imagine the amount of shock transmitted through the foot of your 1,600 pound horse as he trots along. Moisture and fat needed to make the hoof resilient are supplied by cells along the coronary band just above the hoof. Lack of vitamin A and D is the most common cause of brittle feet. Addition of cod liver oil in his diet and applied directly to his feet should help. Hoof conditioning products on the market do a fine job.

(Dr. Moller will send books on pet care to readers submitting best questions. Mail yours on a postcard in care of this paper.)

Stylist Copeland Shows Skirts With More Flare

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Although the body still flares out enough at the hemline for walking action, a sour note for those boys standing on the corner watching the girls go by.

Skirts that Designer Jo Copeland introduced to buyers at her spring fashion market show Tuesday, have been disciplined.

They are still short—kneecap length. But they are not so narrow that girls sacrifice modesty while climbing aboard a bus, nor so voluminous they stop traffic in a March wind.

Even those suits and dresses with skirts pencil slim in front, have generous ones in back with deep pleats or inserts making the room for long strides. Other skirt styles gather discriminately on the waist bands. And, her princess merbunds.

style sheaths that stick close to the body still flare out enough at the hemline for walking action. If the designer has her way, there'll be no more mincing steps on the dance floor either. A glamorous girl can do a polka in Jo Copeland's padded, tapered, bell skirts. Even her refined harem skirts are gathered full at the waist and are tucked at the hem to stay put. Thus she provides room for action without overdoing it.

Hips can get away with an extra pound or two this spring, by Copeland's figure standards, but have to go a far cry from the avoiddupis at the waistline will have to go a far cry from the loose easy fitted look of last year. The Copeland costume not only eases the midriff with wide cum waist bands. And, her princess merbunds.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

ANGRY AUNT
When a boy and girl see each other, which one speaks first? One day recently while I was at my aunt's house, a mere male acquaintance entered the room. We had been introduced a couple of years ago. My aunt was angry because I did not say "Hi" to him. She also said that while she was out of the room for a few minutes I should have started a conversation with the man. My mother taught me the opposite so nothing was said by either of us. Please answer this because now my friends are disagreeing with one another.

Louise Davis Answers:
When a lady and a gentleman recognize each other simultaneously in public, the lady speaks first. If you apply common sense, consideration and a little humility, you will go through life with fewer chips on your shoulder and thus get along better with relatives, friends and acquaintances. Your aunt is right. You were in her house when the "mere male" entered. You had previously met and it was your social obligation to greet him with a how-do-you-do or a hello. Failing to do so was an offense to your aunt and a slap at her guest. It's a silly notion to think that the man was obliged to begin the conversation. There is no rule as to who starts first. It depends on who gets the inspiration. The man probably had none because you ignored him when he entered and he probably decided that your complete silence was telling him that you wanted none of him. You could so easily have said, "Hi, it's nice to see you again." Sorry to scold you like this, especially when you say that your mother taught you differently. But you asked for it.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES
Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Only parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowel before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Your Problems

Ann Still Hearing From Men Who've Been Labeled 'Junior'

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from that obstinate mother who insisted on naming her son Junior over the violent protests of her husband (also a Junior) prompts this letter.
You may recall the husband hated the tag so vehemently that he actually moved to another city. He said it was the only way he could separate himself from identification with his prominent father. I know precisely how he felt because I was in the same boat. It's bad enough in the younger years but after a guy gets into business it's murder.
Why give a boy a name if people are going to call him something else? This goes for Sonny, Buddy, Skipper, Sandy, Buzzie and what have you. If parents like these dizzy names so well why don't they christen their sons that way? — Junior
DEAR ANN LANDERS: As I told the obstinate mother — no woman should insist on a name if her husband doesn't want it. Some men like being Junior and want to pass along the "privilege." It usually depends on how Junior feels about Senior.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is 14 I always like to know where Billy is going and what time to expect him home.
After dinner last night he put on his jacket and said "So long!" I asked where he was headed and when he'd be back. His father cut in to say, "Leave the kid alone. He's not a baby and you don't need to watch him like a hawk." I didn't want to start anything in front of the boy so I remained silent.
At 12:15 I heard Billy's key in the door. My husband warned me not to ask him any questions. I'm worried and upset. I want to do what is best. Please help me. — Springfield Mother
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Parents not only have the right but they have the obligation to know where their children are going and furthermore they should tell them what time to be home.
If your husband thinks freedom to roam around until all hours will make a man out of his son, I have a flash for him — it could make a bum or a criminal out of him first.
Urge your husband to talk this over with his clergyman or the high school principal — or better, perhaps, with the chief of police. He'll get an earful.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am married to a 66-year-old juvenile delinquent. He has left home 11 times in the last two years. When ever he loses his temper he says, "I'm leaving this lunatic asylum." I say, "Fine. I'll help you pack." Then I do. He's usually back in two days.
The problem is this: since he has retired he's more cantankerous than ever. I think his idleness has sent him off his trolley. He has gotten into fights with every member of the family, including our sons-in-law. I have orders not to let them in the house, even when he's not at home. He says the house is half his and that he

Spinsters Preferred For Jobs

BY JUDY BARDEN

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service
BONN — Most young married women in West Germany who want to work manage to find jobs, but employers are not really anxious to hire them.
They prefer a middle-aged woman or, preferably, a spinster.
The reason is a law protecting the jobs of pregnant women.
"Young married girls are a pain in the neck," I was told by a sad-faced employer whose secretary had been away on full pay for three months while she had a baby.
Can't Fire
He continued, "the moment a girl becomes pregnant she can't be fired. At one time we had an office in Berlin. My secretary there learned we were going to close the office. She became pregnant and we had to pay her eight months salary while she stayed home and did nothing."
A British journalist's secretary has just had a baby. She consented to work two hours a day. She comes from 2 until 4 p. m. which is completely useless to the journalist who usually does his interviews at that time.
Feeding Time
When he told her that he needed her more urgently at 5, she ought to have a say-so about who comes over.
I say this is unreasonable. I like people and enjoy visiting with family and friends. What can I do? — Martha
DEAR MARTHA: Don't isolate yourself just because your husband has the personality of a baracuda. Invite whomever you please and instruct the "juvenile delinquent" to stay in "his half" of the house if he doesn't like the guests.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Alumnae Club Fetes Pledges

Fox River Valley Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi entertained Lawrence College pledges at a pre-Halloween party Monday evening in the recreation room at the Colman Hall. Mrs. Glenn Weaver, Mrs. Elmer Kell Jr. and Miss Dorothy DeBruin were co-hostesses.
A brief business meeting preceded the party. Final plans were made for a rummage sale from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Richard Uehling and Mrs. Kenneth Vanderbush are co-chairmen.
replied, "I cannot come then because that is the baby's feeding time."
Another friend has been trying to fire his secretary for two years, but she has had two babies. "She has spent more time at home than in the office and how do I know when is the right moment to pay her off?" he asked.
This law protecting pregnant working women does not only apply to secretaries. It applies to all women in all jobs either married or single.
There is one man who hired a temporary secretary while his permanent one was having a baby, only to find the temporary one had also become pregnant.

Mother's Helper

By Florence & Patricia

ANY BRIGHT, colorful object on the sidewalk or grass will attract your mother's attention, and she'll doubtless pick it up—whatever it is. So when you're going for a walk, do take along in your pocket a couple of small toys, a ballpoint pen, and try to make favorable trades for her finds. It's easier than constant "no-no's" or fearful take-aways.

Lombardi Puts Off Any Decision On Replacements for Two Stars

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—"They're gone, they're gone," groaned Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi when he learned that the military had called up two of his stars—center-linebacker Ray Nitschke and halfback Paul Hornung, the National Football League's scoring leader.

"What the hell can I do?" asked Lombardi, stunned by the announcement that Hornung and Nitschke had been ordered to report to active Army duty in about two weeks.

The Packers smacked down the Cleveland Browns 49-17 last Sunday and it appeared that the powerhouse Lombardi built in less than three years had been completed. His only task seemed to be to keep the machine running smoothly.

Hope Jolted

Then the blow fell Tuesday, jolting title hopes for the Packers, defending champions in the Western Conference and tied with the San Francisco 49ers for the lead with a 4-1 record.

Lombardi put off a decision on replacements, noting that the pair won't leave for several weeks. Former starting center-linebacker Tom Bettis is available as a replacement for Nitschke. Tom orders normally are "personal in."

Moore looms as the top candidate formation" but an announcement to replace Hornung in the running of the callup of Hornung and attack.

The 14th Army Corps Headquarters in Minneapolis announced that Hornung has been ordered to report to the 896th Engineer Co. at Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 30. Nitschke was told to report Nov. 2 at Ft. Lewis, Wash., for duty with Wisconsin's recently activated 32nd National Guard Division. Both are privates and served six months of active duty earlier.

Earlier Rumors

They will take physicals after reporting, the Army said. An Army spokesman said that

Koplitz Picked As Minor League 'Player of Year'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pitcher Howard Koplitz of the Birmingham club in the Southern Association was named minor league player of the year today in voting conducted by the National Association of Baseball Writers.

The selection of Koplitz, who had a 23-3 record in the season just ended, was announced by association president Gene Cueno, sports editor of the Erie (Pa.) Times.

Although only 23, Koplitz already has six years in the minors under his belt. He lives in Oshkosh, Wis.

Among his pitching heroics in the 1961 season were a no-hitter over Mobile and a pair of two-hit victories.

Koplitz will be honored along with members of an all-star major league rookie team at a luncheon held in New York Oct. 26.

Receives 59 Votes

Joey Jay Named Comeback Player Of Year, Frank Thomas Second

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Jay, who bounced back from three seasons with Milwaukee to become the ace right-hander for the Cincinnati Reds, was named the National League's Comeback Player-of-the-Year for 1961 today.

Jay received 59 of the 151 votes by baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll. Frank Thomas, the Braves' slugger-outfielder, was second with 45. The remainder were scattered among 21 different players. Duke Snider, veteran Los Angeles outfielder, was third with eight votes followed by Sandy Koufax, Dodger pitcher with six.

Jay, acquired last Dec. 15 in a deal involving shortstop Roy McMillan, lost his first three games the past season. However, he recovered to finish with a 21-10 record as the Reds won their first pennant in 21 years. Among his victories were four against second-place Los Angeles.

Winn Nine Games

In 1960 the 26-year-old bonus player won nine games and lost eight for Milwaukee.

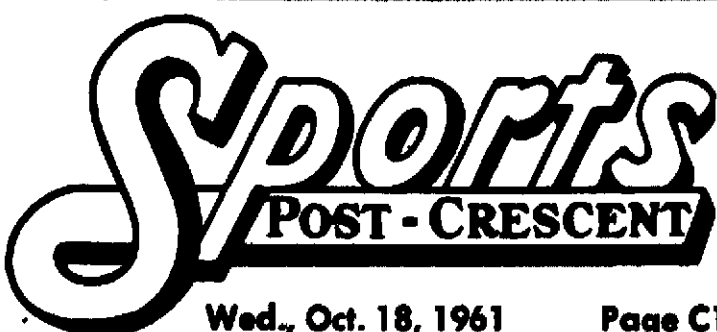

Thomas, former star outfielder for Pittsburgh, regained his old form shortly after moving from the Chicago Cubs to Milwaukee in a May 9 trade for Mel Roach. A 228 batsman with the Cubs in 1960, Thomas finished the 1961 campaign with a .281 average, 27 homers and 73 runs batted in. He had reached a career high of 35 homers and 100 RBI with the Pirates in 1958.

Snider was sidelined five weeks with a fractured collarbone early in the season. Yet, he managed to hit 16 homers while compiling a .286 batting mark. The previous year Snider had a .243 average with 14 home runs.

Koufax won 10 more games the past year than he did in 1960 while losing the same amount. His record was 18-13 compared to 8-13. The fireballing left-hander also set a league record for strikeouts with 269.

Others receiving votes were George Altman, Chicago, 4; Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh and Vada Pinson, Cincinnati, 3 each; Frank Robinson, Gene Freese and Bob Purkey, Cincinnati; Curt Flood, St. Louis; Willie McCovey, San Francisco and Johnny Podres, Los Angeles, 2 each. Players with one vote were Jim Brosnan, Gordon Coleman, Bill Henry and Eddie Kasko, Cincinnati; Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco; Art Haffey and Lee Walls, Philadelphia; Wally Moon, Los Angeles; Curt Simmons, St. Louis; and Dick Stuart, Pittsburgh.

UW Looking for Revenge Victory Over Ranked Iowa

Badgers Remember Hawkeyes Win in Closing Minute Last Season

MADISON (AP)—Painful memories of last year's game make Wisconsin's football team especially eager to take a crack at fourth-ranked Iowa Saturday in Iowa City.

A hint of the high feeling in the Badger camp can be found when Coach Milt Bruhn speaks of the long list of Wisconsin players who are hampered by injuries.

"They'll be ready Saturday," he says, "they want to play this game."

Bruhn won't say Wisconsin is looking for revenge but admits some of the players are thinking about last year's game in which Iowa beat the Badgers 28-21 in the final minute of play.

Promising Start

Off to a promising start in 1960 Wisconsin's momentum was smashed by the Hawkeyes star quarterback Ron Miller was injured and the Badgers never fully recovered as they lost four of their remaining five games.

The Badgers want this year to be a different story "This will be a big game and a tough one," Bruhn says.

Wisconsin's passing attack finally came to life last week against Oregon State as the Badgers piled up 23 points in the first half. And although they won the game 23-20, the Badgers' second half performance tarnished the victory.

The main effort this week will be to keep the air filled with passes for 60 minutes against Iowa.

Cimoli Shipped To Minors in Braves Shakeup

Seth Morehead Also Cut as Club Acts to Protect Youngsters

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves gave veteran catcher Sammy White his unconditional release and shipped outfielder Gino Cimoli to the minor leagues Tuesday in a wholesale shakeup of the roster.

The moves announced by club president and general manager John McHale were designed to protect young farm prospects from the baseball draft.

Cimoli, a 31-year-old veteran obtained from Pittsburgh for John Logan in mid-season, and outfielder Wayne McDonald, 23, were sent to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

From Vancouver

Three players were brought up from Vancouver, outfielder Manuel Jimenez, infielder Ed Charles, and catcher Jose Azcue.

Rookie catcher Phil Roof, and southpaw pitcher Seth Morehead, were assigned to Louisville in the American Association. Promoted from Louisville was catcher Bob Uecker.

Ethan Blackaby, a former University of Illinois football star, and Henry Garrett Jr., were purchased from Louisville. Also, teams in the spring, then scout purchased were right-handed pitcher Bill Ryan, from Boise of the Pioneer League and right-handed Dick Hart, from Cedar Rapids of the Three-I League.

Fourth In Poll

The Hawkeyes own a 3-0 record and rank fourth in the weekly Associated Press Poll. Iowa beat California 28-7, edged the University of Southern California 35-24 and last week took a 27-8 Big Ten conference victory over Indiana.

Against Indiana the Badgers managed to eke out a 6-3 victory. Wisconsin beat Utah and Oregon State and lost to Michigan State 20-9.

Iowa may be without two outstanding backfield men—quarterback Wilburn Hollis and fullback Larry Ferguson. Reports from Iowa City say there is no chance Ferguson will play Saturday, but Bruhn is assuming both will see action.

Angels Sign Gordon As Batting Instructor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former American League manager Joe Gordon has been signed as a batting instructor and scout by the Los Angeles Angels.

General manager Fred Haney said Tuesday Gordon will work with the Angels and their farm teams in the spring, then scout during the season.

Gordon, 46, managed at Cleveland, Detroit and Kansas City. He has been out of baseball since the Athletics fired him June 19

Thomas of Angels Is The Latest

Football stars Paul Hornung and Ray Nitschke, both of the powerful Green Bay Packers, and baseball player George Thomas have been added to the growing list of professional athletes recalled to active duty in the Defense Department build-up.

The overall list, a check revealed today, now totals nearly a score and indications are many more are still to come.

None of the call-ups, however, hit with the force of the announcement Tuesday that the Packers' defending Western Conference champions of the National Football League, probably will be without halfback Hornung and linebacker Nitschke for the second half of the season. Their loss could cost the Packers of Vince Lombardi a chance to repeat as Western champion Green Bay shares first place now with San Francisco.

77 Points in 5 Games

Hornung, 25, a former star quarterback at Notre Dame has won the NFL scoring championship the last two seasons and is well in front this season with 77 points in five games, including a 43-point spurge against Baltimore Oct. 8. Probably the most versatile back in pro football, Hornung is an ace runner, good passer, and is Green Bay's field goal conversion and kickoff expert.

Nitschke, 24, former Illinois fullback, became a regular with the Packers last season and has been a standout on the defensive platoon this year. The Packer deand have yet to allow a Mid-Eastern Conference opponent to cross its goal. New London, led by halfback Dave Emerich, has produced more points than any other league team, 132, and has given up 37 points.

Scoring Mark

The fleet Emerich will set a new season scoring mark if he can score a touchdown against Kimberly. Emerich needs only four points to tie the mark set by Clintonville's Don Jirschele in 1960.

No Complaints From Ron Santo on Cub's Rotating Coaches

SEATTLE (AP)—Ron Santo, young third baseman with the Chicago Cubs, said Tuesday he has no complaints about the team's program of using a board of coaches in lieu of a manager.

Don Zimmer was quoted Monday in St. Petersburg, Fla., as saying the coaches, by issuing contradictory instructions to Santo, 132, and has given up 37 points.

"At one time it was like that," Santo said, "But I think they (the coaches) didn't realize this was going on. Don told me to go to them and tell them. I didn't, but I think he did."

"I have no complaints because I'm playing every day."

Each Yank Receives
$7,389.11 While
Losers Got $5,356.36

NEW YORK (AP)—The victorious New York Yankees each received $7,389.11 for their World Series victory over the Cincinnati Reds, but they came out about $1,100 poorer than the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won in 1960.

The Pirates came out with $8,417.94 each last year because their home park, Forbes Field, had a bigger capacity than Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

The share for each Yankee was the lowest since 1952. Commissioner Ford Frick announced Tuesday. The Yanks of 1952 each barked $5,982.65 after beating Brooklyn in the Series.

The Yanks voted 36 1-6 shares, plus cash awards of 34,500. This included 33 full shares along with seven fractional slices.

Earl Torgeson, Hal Reniff, Bud Daley, Billy Gardner and Jack Reed all received full shares although they were not with the club all season. So did trainers Gus Mauch and Joe Soares.

30 Full Shares
Cincinnati awarded 30 full shares of $5,356.36 and seven fractional shares. Catcher John Edwards, who came to the club on June 27 got a half share the Boston Celtics, were Bill Russell, regret this misunderstanding occurred July 21. Catcher and Tom Sanders. 7 Negro Cagers Refuse To Play After Incident

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Seven Negro professional basketball players refused to participate in the incident was the result of an exhibition basketball game misunderstanding. T. H. Hardwick said the players failed to tell a hostess they were registered at the hotel and thus were denied service. "I regret this misunderstanding occurred," Hardwick said.

The general manager told me they wanted to bring all the boys back to Boston and cancel the game," he said. "But I finally convinced him that it wouldn't be fair since league teams, all in the American League, in a career that because he gave me permission to keep the remainder of the team in Lexington. The Hawks won 128-103 after the fourth place teams 5 per cent.

Cards Sell Cicotte To Houston Colts

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The sale of pitcher Al Cicotte to the Houston Colts for an undisclosed amount of cash was announced Tuesday night by the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 32-year-old right-hander was named minor league player of the year in 1960, when he was with Toronto of the International League. But with the Cardinals last year he won only two while losing six and had an earned run average of 5.26. The big pitcher has played with four other major league teams, all in the American League, in a career that began in 1948.

The Cardinals, in acquiring Cicotte last fall, gave up pitcher Cal Browning and outfielders Leon Wagner and Ellis Burton.

AAU Defended In Los Angeles

'Willing to Make Changes as Needed',
Says Track Official

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A long range effort to discredit the National Amateur Athletic Union was the sharp charge made here by Pincus Sober of New York.

AAU Track and Field Committee Chairman. Speaking he said for the first time publicly on the recent rash of criticism aimed at the AAU and the possible creation of a national collegiate federation to take control of college track athletics, day night. Sober declared: "If changes are needed, the AAU will and has always been willing to change." "I cannot feel that track and field will be permitted to deteriorate into a cat and dog fight," he said. The New York attorney said he accepted an invitation to appear before the Old Time Athletes' Association because he considers it a "long campaign" aimed at the AAU. He said he deprecates the possibility of any fight, for control of this area to be the center of track and field in the country. He spoke and answered questions for almost two hours Tuesday night. Much of the anti-AAU agitation has cropped up in this area. Sober said he had been told by a writer that a magazine had been preparing material critical of the organization for more than a year. He did not identify the magazine.

Lee Jumps To Second in AFL Passing

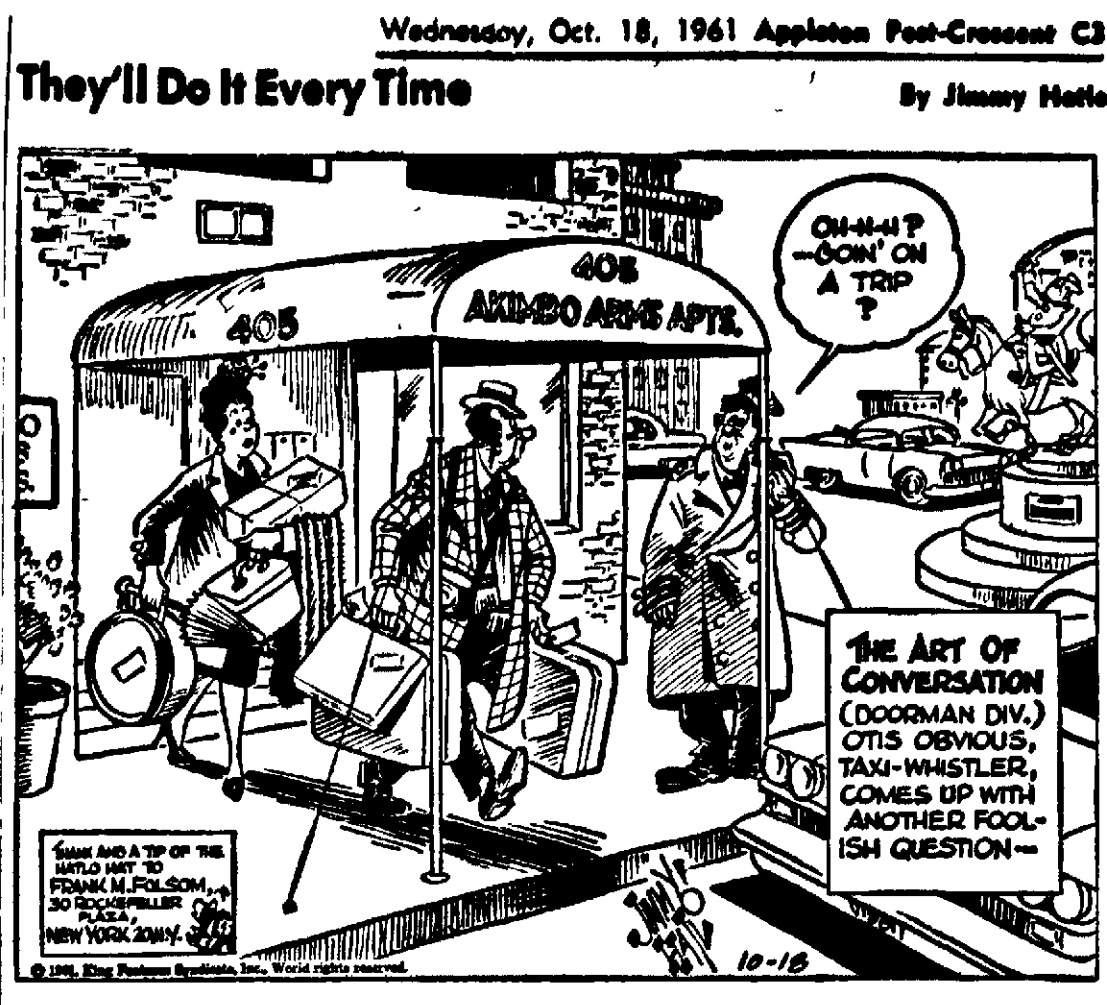

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Lee got his second chance as a starter last week and he took full advantage of it — he passed 41 times against Boston and connected on 27 for an amazing 487 yards as Houston and Boston played a 31-31 tie.

It was a league record and shot Lee from ninth place to second in American Football League passing.

Jack Kemp of San Diego still leads with 50½ efficiency points to 48½ for Lee under the six-point system that decides the passing title in the AFL. Kemp has thrown 197 times and completed 73 for 1156 yards.

Ken Lowe of San Diego continues to lead the rushers. He worked a better margin into his lead by gaining 58 yards against New York while second-place Jack Spikes of Dallas managed only 11 against Buffalo. Lowe has gained 412 yards on 93 runs, Spikes 337 on 35.

Gino Cappelletti of Boston stayed out front in scoring with 80 points, scoring 13 against Houston.

Liska Predicts 6-Point Win For Hawkeyes Over Badgers

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan, going to a 19-6 victory over Miami Northwestern and the old Mid-West.

west Swami were butter-fingered last Saturday, so the crystal-ball department shows a season record of 18-41 for an .818 pigskin-picking average.

So another orbit try with: Notre Dame 27, Michigan State 24 — Seldom have two good teams been wound up so tightly so early in the season. In fact, seldom in the past decade has Notre Dame, early or late, been so formidable.

This could be the most exciting Michigan State-Notre Dame contest since the Spartans outlasted the Irish, 36-33, in a 1950 scorch.

Only once in eight meetings since that classic has Notre Dame triumphed — in a 1954 corker, won by the Irish 20-19.

Both teams have backs who can ramble. The real showdown will be up front between an Irish line which smothered Southern California to a minus four yards made against his roving coaches rushing and the Spartan forwards, by Don Zimmer, former Cub in who shredded Michigan's vaunted fielder who doubled as team captain before being claimed by the New York Mets last week in the training he changed his mind and thought it was great. Because of his enthusiasm we made him a first person art-team captain. As the season went on, Zimmer switched over to Purdue wasn't too sharp in puff-burg, Fla., Times and claimed the again."

Wrigley Makes Little Effort To Explain Coaching System

CHICAGO (AP)—P.K. Wrigley, system was the big reason for Chicago's seventh place finish. Zimmer said he felt sorry for his ex-teammates who have to play under the system next year and said the roving coaches were baffling Ron Santo, a fine, young third baseman.

Wrigley said Zimmer was one of those persons who has trouble making up his mind.

"When we first announced the system," said Wrigley, "Zimmer said he changed his mind and thought it was great. Because of his enthusiasm we made him a first person art-team captain. As the season went on, Zimmer switched over to Purdue wasn't too sharp in puff-burg, Fla., Times and claimed the again."

Kilmer Moves Up to No. 4 Rushing Spot

49er Rookie Also Ties for Second Place in NFL Scoring Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, New York Giants, moved up to No. 4 rushing spot, tying for second place in NFL scoring statistics.

Kilmer, national college leader in total offense last season and most valuable player in the All-Star game at Chicago last summer, found himself as a pro runner when he was installed as one of the three rotating quarterbacks in San Francisco's shotgun offense.

In his last three games, Kilmer has run for 334 yards and has scored eight touchdowns. Latest NFL individual offense figures show him as the No. 4 rusher with 356 yards on 59 carries and tied with Baltimore's Lenny Moore for second in scoring with 48 points.

He also has completed 11 of 22 passes for 172 yards.

Prefers Running
Kilmer, a former single wing tailback, prefers being a running quarterback to being just a passer. "I'd rather be running when hit by a tackler than being still and getting belted by a blitzing lineman," he says.

Green Bay's Taylor also scored four touchdowns in the Packers' rout of Cleveland and ran for 158 yards to improve his lead over Jimmy Brown of the Browns.

Taylor has gained 518 yards in 81 attempts for a 6.4 yard average. Hornung picked up 13 points on a touchdown and seven conversions to run his point total to 77.

Plum, who took the passing lead the week before, maintained it in the intricate NFL computations by completing 17 of 26 for 193 yards. Bart Starr of Green Bay vaulted from fifth to third in passing, behind Philadelphia's Sonny Jurgensen.

Black Hawks Trim Boston for First Victory

World Champs Break Into Win Column After Pair of Ties

CHICAGO (AP)—The world champion Chicago Black Hawks finally broke into the victory column Tuesday night after a pair of ties, but Coach Rudy Pilous and his players were far from satisfied with their 5-3 triumph over Boston.

"I know we play New York Thursday night," said Pilous, "but we're going to practice tomorrow anyway. Maybe we can tighten up the club a bit."

Except for a short span of one minute, 20 seconds in the second period when they scored three quick goals, the Hawks were a far cry from the team which won the Stanley Cup last season.

"Maybe we were trying too hard," said Pilous, "and maybe the way Boston plays caused us to be ragged. I know this. The boys are champions and they have the pride of champions. When they start looking bad against a team like Boston, then they try all the harder and before you know it they're playing like Boston."

Much Better
Pilous feels this team is much better than the one which defeated Montreal and Detroit in the playoffs to capture the title last season.

"This team is more mature since winning the championship and has more confidence," he said. "And I know we strengthened ourselves in picking up players like Bob Turner, Bronco Horvath and Jerry Melnyk. No matter what we've done, we haven't lost as yet and that's something."

Melnik, Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita provided Chicago's three quick goals in the second period and Ron Murphy and Horvath scored in the final period. Boston's goals were provided by Terry Gray, John Bucyk and Charlie Burns.

The Montreal Canadiens will be at New York tonight.

Wants Cooper

Eddie Machen TKO's London in 5 Rounds

By RONALD THOMSON
LONDON (AP)—America's Eddie Machen flies home today after a victory that could bring him closer to a shot at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight boxing championship.

The victim was Britain's Brian London, who was outclassed by Machen in five one-sided rounds Tuesday night and retired from the scheduled 10-round contest claiming his nose felt like it was broken.

"Now I want a fight with Henry Cooper (British champion) to decide who is the No. 1 contender for the world title," the unmarked Machen told reporters after his light exercise in London's indoor Wembley Stadium.

Many Burned on 'Hot' New Stocks

BY SYLVIA PORTER

This past spring a brilliant executive in the advertising field did a fine job of running my luncheon date with him by talking at length about the fabulous fortunes he was making by buying the "hot" new issues flooding Wall Street at the time.

He named four he had bought—two had doubled in price within 48 hours, one had tripled friend's stocks. If he stuck to his term capital gain," said he and more than a 25 per cent rate, he mental lesson that the cheapest

Only four of those 31 stocks were selling at prices higher than the initial offering.

Many Were Burned As it has happened before, so it has happened again. In four periods since World War II, there have been wild bull markets in new stock issues—in 1945-46, in 1950-51, in 1953-54, in 1959 and in each case, the market's stock exchange officials have

The lulu we owned then—which we have sold since at a fat profit but still well beneath its peak price—is back at the level at which we bought it in 1960. Let's put in plainly: Countless thousands of gamblers in new stock issues of corporations which they knew nothing about the survey. One of these, is now be bought for a penny. Research Team Make Cancer Breakthrough

Isolate Element in Deadly Chemical
Chain of Compounds

A significant advance in understanding the nature of the process by which certain chemicals induce cancer has been announced by University of Wisconsin scientists.

The advance was reported by Drs. James and Elizabeth Miller, husband-and-wife research team of Wisconsin's McArdle Memorial Laboratory for Cancer Research, in a technical scientific journal.

It has been known for some time that many cancer producing chemicals do not trigger the disease in the form administered to laboratory animals. They are, instead, converted by the animal's metabolism into other much more potent compounds, and these trick the cellular master chemicals into becoming cancerous.

Fatal Trickery

There is a whole series of intermediates between the original chemical and the final chemical responsible for the fatal trickery. Once the first has been formed, it is changed into the second, the second into the third, and so on.

The Millers have isolated and identified the first in the series of intermediates formed when a cancer producing substance is fed to animals.

The finding may help explain the activity of certain chemicals known to cause bladder cancer in man. The use of such a chemical in the dye industry has been discontinued. Workers exposed to it were usually subject to bladder cancer. It seems probable that a form of this chemical constitutes the initial intermediate in the chain of compounds leading to a combining form of cancer, the Millers point out.

Now that this chemical linkage is known to exist in living cells, it may be speculated that certain natural substances are occasionally turned into these chemical forms.

"Perhaps certain normal body products are occasionally turned into these cancer combining forms, and in this way account for the appearance of some types of cancer," the Millers add.

Appleton PTA Groups To Meet Thursday

The Edison School PTA will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday with an open house and tour of the building. Appleton Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz will speak at the meeting. Members of the Richmond School PTA will be guests.

The Lincoln School PTA will have an open house and tour of the classrooms at 8 p.m. Thursday. Appleton Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz will be introduced.

Officers this year are co-presidents Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Derschheid, co-vice presidents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Riggs, secretary Mrs. Marie Frank, co-treasurers Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingmundson, historian Mrs. Paul Williamson and adviser Mrs. Bernice Ahlschwede.

The Huntley School PTA will have a presentation by the teaching staff on "Guiding the Child's Viewpoint of Learning" at 8 p.m. Thursday.

New officers are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Worthen, co-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, co-vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milstein, co-secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Reeves, co-treasurers; Mrs. Max Hensel, hospitality chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Krueger, membership chairman; Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson, publicity chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gander, magazine chairman; and Mrs. David Merrill and Mrs. Robert Knapp, yearbook chairman.

3 Counties Okay One School Chief

Oconto, Forest, Shawano to Share Superintendent if Measure Passes

Post-Crescent News Service
GILLET — Members of education committees of Oconto, Forest and Shawano counties approved unanimously Tuesday afternoon the proposal of Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction, to join the three counties under a joint school superintendency.

Approval of the proposal prompted by the recent resignation of Ray Ropella, superintendent of Shawano County schools, was given at a public hearing conducted by Rothwell at city hall.

Acceptance of the joint superintendency plan hinges on the separate actions of each of the county boards within 30 days. Rothwell explained. All counties have board meetings scheduled within that period.

The Shawano County Board meets Oct. 31. Forest County supervisors meet Nov. 7, and Oconto County supervisors will meet Nov. 14.

Oconto and Forest counties have been operating jointly under Supt. Otto Neumann of Gillett for more than a year. Rothwell said it is one of eight joint superintendencies operating in Wisconsin on a highly satisfactory basis.

He predicted many more mergers as other county superintendents resign and as integration is completed July 1, 1962. Before having the education committees polled, Rothwell said Eau Claire and Chippewa counties are to act on a similar proposal. The inclusion of Portage County into the present Waushara - Adams County joint school superintendency will have a hearing later this week.

The state superintendent said no definite pattern of merging is being followed.

The only question that arose at the hearing came from Morris Rymer, Oconto Falls, Oconto County Board Chairman. He said the feeling was prevalent among the supervisors that Shawano County's five-man education committee would represent that county on the joint tri-county committee when Oconto and Forest County each have only three representatives each.

Rymer was apprehensive of how they were apt to vote under registration and the illegal use of those conditions. Rothwell said license plates. He later was charged with breaking into the only three will represent Shawano County each have only three representatives each.

Milwaukee Man Sentenced

Judge Keller Sets 1-10 Year Term On Three Charges

A former Appleton man, Tuesday received jail and prison sentences for burglary, theft and driving his car after his license was revoked when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Harold Willems, 23, Milwaukee, was arrested Oct. 1 in Appleton for driving after revocation, non-registration and the illegal use of license plates. He later was charged with breaking into the Resale Shop, 2220 W. Wisconsin Ave., and stealing a welder valued at $103.

Judge Keller sentenced Willems to a one to 10 year indeterminate term at the state prison at Waupun for the burglary charge, a one year indeterminate sentence or the theft, six months in jail or driving after revocation, a $10 fine or three days in jail for having illegal license plates and a $10 fine or five days in jail for non-registration. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Orchestra's Beginning Restrained Mantovani Program Has Dazzling Finish

BY JACK RUDOLPH
Press-Gazette Staff Writer

The lush, soothing melody of Mantovani's tumbling strings rippled placidly through the well-filled Bay Theater Tuesday night. The only trouble was, for nearly three-quarters of the evening they never tumbled very far.

The English pop maestro's big orchestra opened on a restrained note, and never got much above that level until well through the second half. Then it suddenly came to life with a late rush that sent a highly satisfied audience into the night singing its praises.

Whatever was eating on the menu, it wasn't an inability to play Mantovani's silken arrangements. This is a good outfit, with an excellent player in every chair. Had it played the whole program the way it finished up, Whitey Klika would still be trying to coax the customers out of the rafters.

Small Group

They have to be good. Since he could bring only a small group of his own key men to the United States, Mantovani has built this touring band in less than a month, a job that required both conductor and musicians who know their business.

Listening to Mantovani's recordings, it is easy to miss an essential fact about his organization and arrangements. While he damaged in an accident in the 1200 block of N. Richmond street, king-size string sections (32 of 45 Gilman denied driving his car at players), it is essentially the time of the accident, police winds and brasses who carry the said, but later admitted that he ball The strings provide the velvety cushion but the woodwinds and horn tooters deliver the gleaming sonorities.

They do it impressively, too. Although he has only one instrument per section except for two trumpets and a pair of trombones, every one is excellent. His flutist and lead trumpet are outstanding but only because they have more opportunity to shine. The clarinet, oboe, French horn and bassoon need take no guff last night confined his oratory almost exclusively to a barely audible announcement of the next number.

Actually, except for the overbalance of strings, the makeup of the band is completely symphonic—plus a couple of instruments symphonies don't associate with. The group might find useful. The group lacked a harp (it has one back). Richard Rodgers' "Bewitched," (home) but added a very fine accompaniment featuring a rousing trumpet solo, and an unobtrusive but was a fine springboard for Mantovani's own rich orchestration of the finale, a medley of familiar Italian airs that had the audience exemplified by the bored arrogance of the percussionist.

much less smiled, until midway of the post-intermission period. Maybe that was the signal—things began to perk up about then.

Beginning with a stunning performance of "Granada," the orchestra swept through the remainder of the pop program with increasing spirit and warmth. Students Personally Involved In Lesson on Public Opinion

Experience Best Teacher
BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The junior high school civics teacher, a tall blond man, was usually a quiet person. He talked to his class in a warm friendly tone which took for granted that his students wanted to know about government and the people and events that control it. That was his point for the morning: people control government. He reiterated the book's premise that unless people are accurately informed they are in no position to make intelligent decisions.

Suddenly, just as he was saying, "People do not pay close attention," the teacher stopped his lecture, took a long stride toward a boy sitting near the front, grabbed him by the shoulders and lifted him from his seat. He pushed him toward the door. "Go to the office," he demanded.

If anyone had been sleeping, dozing, or simply locked away with his own thoughts, he was suddenly very much awake and "with it." The usually composed features of the teacher looked different, his face was red, his eyes flashed with anger. His voice was loud and not under complete control.

The drowsy classroom atmosphere had become electric. Each student was part of what had happened, yet didn't know what would come of the event he had just witnessed and his mind was besieged with fear and confusion.

Wants Written Account
"All right," the teacher said in a harsh tone. "Just for the record, everyone write your opinion of what you saw."

Paper rattled and pencils scratched as 30 ninth graders tried to report what had happened between their teacher and one of their friends.

The papers were handed in without names. When he had collected the last one, the teacher put them on his desk and went to the door.

"Come back in now, Bill," he motioned the exiled student back to his desk. Bill was smiling, yet he looked slightly ill at ease. The teacher also smiled. Suddenly the students' world was restored to order, but the words they had written — their opinions — were stacked in a neat pile on the teacher's desk.

"I wanted to see how many really knew enough to form an opinion," the teacher explained. "I wanted to know who would leave this classroom — to exert an influence on the opinions of other students — with any actual, but plenty of imagined, information."

He took the first paper from the stack.

"Bill shouldn't have been sleeping," the student had written. "You did the right thing."

"He was sitting there not paying attention just when you were talking about paying attention. You were right to throw him out of class."

"Bill was making noises that distracted the class. A teacher has the right to demand that the class listen to him."

"Bill was reading from a book that didn't have anything to do with civics. The teacher put him out of class."

"I don't really know what happened, but I'm sure a teacher has the right to keep order in his class."

Lesson With Impact

And so the witnesses continued, expressed the belief that they hadn't seen the "erring" student do anything wrong, but they assumed the teacher had the prerogative of maintaining discipline.

The students pledged themselves to silence until the other classes had had their lessons. They left the room with a new insight into the textbook's lesson on "Public opinion." The cold words had been translated into everyday life with such force that it became a personal involvement. Learning was not dull, nor would this specific example soon be forgotten.

Winnebago Unit Lacks Full Staff

Personnel Shortage High Nationally, Says Official

BY ALLAN EKVALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WINNEBAGO — Nineteen full-time physician positions have been set up for Winnebago State Hospital. But the hospital staff numbers only eight.

Four psychologist positions are listed for the hospital. But only one psychologist is on the roster. This shortage of personnel is true all over the country, Dr. Charles H. Belcher, superintendent at Winnebago State Hospital, said. The national average for the mental hospital personnel shortage is 64 per cent of the number needed.

Considered Isolated

He thought one reason for the tremendous shortage at Winnebago is that the hospital is considered isolated by many psychiatrists and physicians since it is not near a large city nor associated with a college.

We can do all right with nurses but clerical help is also in short supply and difficult to obtain, possibly because of the many industries in this area, the hospital superintendent thought.

One of the big problems, he believed, was that so many areas are using psychiatric and psychological help, for purposes such as adoption or welfare agency work. All of these he said are good causes but it spreads the available number pretty thin.

Out-Patient Care

Dr. Belcher lauded the enabling act passed by the state legislature for out-patient care. Winnebago State Hospital handles about 40 to 50 out-patients a month. If we could get the out-patient care started, we would not have so many in-patients, he mentioned.

But here again, he added, the shortage of trained personnel works a hardship. There are more people to care for than we can deal with because we do not have a large enough staff.

"But it's not as dark as it seems," Dr. Belcher added. "We like to feel we are fair and conscientious in our treatment. We have a fair approach to the problem and we do not neglect the patients unduly. Nor are we cruel to them."

"We use a fairly logical approach to these things. Sometimes it is distressingly slow but we try to avoid getting tied up in red tape and being cold in our attitude."

"Psychiatry has oversold it," he commented. "That's one of the word 'Negro.' I think this of its biggest problems. It has harmed itself. A person can't get rid of his problem just by lying in on a psychiatrist's couch."

Tranquilizer Drugs

The biggest change in treatment of mental patients in recent years has been the advent of the tranquilizer drugs. These came into use about 1954. "We have some fairly effective drugs but there are limits as to the treatment," Dr. Belcher cautioned.

More of the staff is learning how to use the tranquilizer drugs and the length of stay of a patient in the hospital is gradually decreasing as a result. These drugs, he said, have aided in the release of about 73 per cent of the persons admitted during the year.

Many persons are out of the hospital now that would still be patients were it not for these tranquilizer drugs. The drugs though are not the panacea for all mental problems. Dr. Belcher pointed out.

Mental hospitals also today are much improved and this has aided in earlier releases of patients.

Dr. Charles H. Belcher, superintendent of the Winnebago State Hospital, stands in front of Hughes Hall, one of the major patient facilities at the institution in the right photo. At left is a construction scene showing part of the new $2.5 million infirmary. Kempster Hall is in the background.

they are receiving direct admissions rather than just receiving transfers from the state hospitals. Mental illness, he said, is something that is beginning to get along in life. Some of the county hospitals also are beginning to get along in life. Their mental patients and are doing pretty heroic work, Dr. Belcher thought. He mentioned, this maladjustment in recent years has become quite short. Out-patients of state hospital personnel live in many of the cases through which sounds nice to him. Out-patients of state hospital personnel live in many of the cases through which sounds nice to him. Out-patients of state hospital personnel live in many of the cases through which sounds nice to him.

Combined Locks School Replaces Science Teacher

COMBINED LOCKS — Pierce Giffey has been hired as seventh and eighth grade science and citizenship instructor at Combined Locks State Graded School.

Giffey replaces Edward Wulgaert who was called to active duty with the Red Arrow division. The new instructor formerly taught at Twin Willows State Graded School. He was released from his former contract by the school board at the request of Wayne Hull, principal after a new teacher was found for that school.

Difficulty was found in hiring a replacement for Wulgaert, indicated Hull, as the Combined Locks board favored a man teacher with a good science background to handle the science department.

Realistic Approach, Money Could Halt Impending Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both money and a realistic approach to the task of slum-area schools are needed to head off an impending explosion, Dr. James B. Conant says.

Conant, former president of Harvard University, expressed the view in a new book, "Slums and Suburbs," published Monday by McGraw-Hill. It is an expansion of an earlier study he made of junior high school education in the public schools.

Social Phenomenon

"The building up of a mass of unemployed and frustrated Negro youth in congested areas of a city is a social phenomenon that may be compared to the piling up of inflammable material in an empty building in a city block," he said.

"Potentialities for trouble — indeed possibilities of disaster — are surely there."

The main problem in city slum schools, he said, is to offer courses that have some relationship to the students. He stressed vocational education.

Foreign Languages

"Foreign languages in grade seven or algebra in grade eight... have little place in a school in which half the pupils in that grade read at the fourth grade level or below," Conant declared.

Conant also criticized those who "have placed a taboo on the use of the word 'Negro.' I think this of its biggest problems. It has harmed itself. A person can't get rid of his problem just by lying in on a psychiatrist's couch."

He said some cities have pressured Negroes to attend "essentially white schools," adding: "Those which have not done so, like Chicago, are more likely to make progress in improving Negro education. It is my belief that satisfactory education can be provided in an all-Negro school through the expenditure of more money for needed staff and facilities."

But Conant said he does not approve gerrymandering school district lines which "amounts to separating pupils solely on the basis of race."

Jumping Conclusions: Women to Weather

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions, and how many do you agree with?

Most books on how to achieve success are written by people you never heard of before.

A woman will believe any man who flatters her beauty, but always doubts a man who praises her choice of hats.

Seems to Study

If science ever perfects push-button weather control, the guy who pushes the button will be the most hated man in America.

There just isn't any kind of grocery bill first; a man living in weather that pleases everybody, ostentatiously beyond his means.

Any goal in life is still possible generally pays his grocer last—if for a teen-ager who studies in a home that has neither TV set nor telephone.

We might never have you are courting is to send her fresh flowers every day.

The surest way to lose a girl is to borrow money from her. No woman can ever lose interest in a man who owes her money.

The only admirable trait I know of in heavy gamblers is that, unlike the occasional better, they rarely complain publicly about their losses.

It seems to be part of learn to eat raw oysters than it is to take the does to rob a bank.

On the surface we like the coming up with what is going on in the world. But not one man in vice, a comradeship often born of necessity. Deep within us, however, we despise them for being as weak as we are.

A boss may be telling the truth, when he says he doesn't want to be surrounded by "yes men"—but he does want to be partly surrounded by them. There is nothing lonelier or more frightening than to be in power without someone around to assure you that you are wise.

Many of us take pride in keeping up with what is going on in the world. But not one man in five or six years of age can name three now popular tunes written this year. Most can't even name one.

Feckhardy, too.

It takes more than honesty for a grownup person to keep a completely truthful diary of what he does and thinks. He has to be pretty foolhardy, too.

The poorest investor in the world is a man who deliberately seeks happiness by marrying a wealthy woman.

For some reason, a left-handed girl holds a mysterious fascination for a right-handed man. He thinks she may be different from other girls. She isn't.

Churchgoers who read astrology books and also carry a rabbit's foot for good luck are merely trying to play both ends against the middle.

Optimism never dies. Even in such a cynical age as ours there are still people who believe the pictures they see in seed catalogs.

Four Firemen Injured in Oshkosh Fire

Torch Ignites Oil Storage Tank Being Dismantled

OSHKOSH — Four Oshkosh firemen were injured Tuesday morning while fighting a fire in an unused oil storage tank at the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. on Ceape Ave.

The fire started about 10:30 when sparks from an acetylene torch ignited oil tar left in the tank from the days when the company manufactured gas. Workmen were dismantling the tank when the fire was started. Lt. George Koch injured his right shoulder when he fell into a hole filled with a mixture of oil and water. It was the same shoulder he had injured some time ago while fighting another fire and Tuesday was his first day back at work. He was held overnight at Mercy Hospital for treatment.

Hurts Knee
Another fireman, Harry Kimball, an equipment operator, fell into the same hole and injured his knee. He was treated at Mercy Hospital and released.

Allen Mauritz, an off-duty alarm operator, injured his knee and shoulder when he fell backwards over a two and a half inch hose. He also was treated at Mercy Hospital and released.

Gerry Hintz suffered first degree burns on his face while spraying water onto the top of the burning tank. He also was treated at the hospital.

One fire company remained at the scene until 6:50 p.m. A total of five companies were used to fight the fire. There was no apparent damage to any of the surrounding buildings.

Three Hurt in Two Accidents

Elkhart Lake Youths Seriously Injured in Sports Car Crash

OSHKOSH—Three persons were injured in two Winnebago County accidents Tuesday afternoon and night.

Kenneth and Roger Spindler, both 19, route 1, Elkhart Lake, were seriously injured when their car which Kenneth was driving hit a gate at the Winnebago County fairgrounds at Jackson Street and Murdock Avenue shortly before midnight.

Suffers Concussion
Kenneth suffered a concussion, an injured right knee and multiple lacerations and bruises. His brother also suffered a concussion, injuries to his forehead and left knee and a possible dislocated left hip.

According to the Winnebago County police report, Spindler was racing east on Murdock Avenue with a sports car and he was unable to make the turn onto Jackson Street and crashed into the fairground gate.

A nine-year-old boy was injured at 4:30 p.m. when he was struck by a car on U. S. 45 approximately 1,000 feet north of Lakeside School.

Taken to Hospital
John R. Samuel, route 1, Oshkosh, was taken to Mercy Hospital by a Moore ambulance where he is reported recovering from head injuries and multiple abrasions.

The driver of the car, Kathleen Reetz, 47, Fond du Lac, told Winnebago County police she was going south on U. S. 45 and that the Samuel boy and two others were walking alongside the road. She said that she heard a thump as she passed the boys and stopped her car. Witnesses to the accident reported the boy started across the road and walked in front of the car.

Sleeper Jailed For Drunkenness

Adolph Ristau, 63, Appleton, Monday was sentenced to 30 days in the Outagamie County jail after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Ristau, who has been jailed 31 times since 1945, was found sleeping in a car in a W. Washington Street used car lot.

Increase of $311,000 for County Budget Is Proposed

Budget Will Be Submitted On Oct. 31

OSHKOSH — A $311,000 increase in operating expenses for Winnebago County for 1962 is proposed in the budget reviewed by the Finance Committee Tuesday for submission to the county board at its Oct. 31 meeting.

The requested expenditures total $4,410,451 as against this year's estimated costs of $4,099,257. The amount being sought through tax levy was not announced by the committee, which is checking into estimated revenues.

Requests Totaled
The Finance Committee totals the requests from the various departments and board committees and then submits the requests to the board which then reviews the proposed costs, cutting some and adding others before adopting a final budget.

General government costs for next year are proposed at $503,073, up from this year's $457,316. The major increase was a $25,000 boost in the courthouse costs.

Automatic salary increases for the traffic patrolmen was cited as a reason for the increase in the protection of person and property budget which is up from $218,217 to $250,871. The traffic police budget of $134,246 is a $17,500 boost.

Costs Down
Highway department costs are down from $325,646 this year to $477,890 for next year with decreases in maintenance and special projects leading the way.

Up about $25,000 is the proposed budget for health, conservation and sanitation which is estimated at $150,014 for next year. The education budget of $283,810 represents only a gain of about $9,000.

Charities and corrections, which includes the Welfare Department costs, has a proposed budget of $2,530,146 for next year, as against $2,364,369 this year. Among these increases are $50,000 more in aid for the disabled, which is estimated for next year at $135,000, $26,000 more for child welfare which is estimated at $61,000 and about $25,000 more for welfare administration which will total about $154,634.

Guidance Center
The proposed guidance center budget is $76,790, an increase of about $20,000, and the County Home and Hospital budget request is $237,000, a boost of $57,000.

Unclassified expenses are down from $234,127 this year to $214,645 next year, principally because of a drop in the airport budget. This budget went down from $38,397 to $28,063 since the county this year included its share of the east-west runway extension project.

More money is being sought for the Fox Valley Extension Center of the University of Wisconsin which this year received $29,750 from the county and for which $63,125 is being asked next year.

Jacobs Market Plans to Build Parking Lot

Jacobs Brothers Market, 544 N. Lawe St., is going to spend about $20,000 to provide off-street customer parking.

Leonard Jacobs appeared before the planning commission Monday to ask rezoning of a 60-by-106-foot lot back of the market for a parking lot. The commission approved the request and rezoned the lot from two-family residential to local business.

All four corners of Lawe and Pacific Streets already are zoned commercial and light industrial. The market occupies the southeast corner.

Jacobs said a home and two garages on the proposed parking lot would either be torn down or moved, depending on which is most economical. He said that buying the property and building the parking lot will cost about $20,000.

No neighboring property owners appeared at the commission meeting to object to the rezoning. Jacobs said he contacted most of the neighbors and they were all in favor of it, because Pacific is a narrow street and parking is partially restricted on Lawe. When customers' cars crowd the street the neighbors have a hard time getting in and out of their driveways, he said.

Menasha Man Fined $14
MENASHA — Kenneth Mason, 39, 382 Ahnapp St. pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and was ordered to pay $14 fine in police court today.

Another charge, of encumbering the streets and alleys of the city was dismissed on a motion of City Atty. Richard Steffens.

Mason was arrested at his home Sept. 10. A policeman said Mason became abusive after being asked to move a car, which was parked over the sidewalk.

Appleton Guardsmen Will Get Home Town Sendoff

Elks, Press, Business Form Group To Plan Street Dance on E. College

BY DAVID L. BROOKER
Post-Crescent City Editor

Appleton's two National Guard units are going to get a sendoff from the home folks after all.

That sendoff—or lack of planning for same—was the principal item of business at Tuesday night's dinner at which the Appleton Elks Lodge honored members of the press and radio, a traditional Newspaper Week observance.

And the Elks and their guests decided it was high time somebody organized a way to let members of Combat Support Company and Headquarters Company of the Guard know that the city and county do care that some 320 members of the community are going into active service.

There have been rumblings—among Guard members and others—about the apathy in Appleton toward the activation of the 32nd Division. Many communities in the area have given parties and gifts to the Guard members.

Elks Take Lead
Raymond C. Max, Elks exalted ruler and emcee at the press dinner, took matters into his own hands and appointed a committee under Elks leadership to work out the recognition activities.

Tentative plans call for a street dance on the east end of College Avenue near the armory Sunday night. The Appleton Jaycees have volunteered to handle the food and refreshments. The party will be free for guard members and their guests. It also will be open to the public on a pay-for-your-own refreshments basis, proceeds of which will be used to provide a company "kitty" for things the two units may need while in camp.

In addition, the committee is promoting a parade, complete guards to begin move this weekend

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division, which went on active duty this week, will begin moving to the combat training center at Ft. Lewis, Wash., on Monday.

Division transportation officers announced Tuesday the schedule of departure times for most of the units, all of whom will move by train. There will be additional departures on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

In addition there will be some air movements on Oct. 26 to include some Milwaukee and western Wisconsin units, and several more trains remain to be made up and scheduled.

Since reporting for duty Sunday, the division's 10,000 men have been loading equipment.

(Clintonville unit will leave from Shawano at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. Leaving Wednesday are Appleton, 8 a.m.; Neenah, 8:30 a.m.; Oshkosh, 9 a.m.; and Waupaca, 9:30 a.m.)

About 20 per cent of the Appleton units will leave by private automobile Sunday morning. A meet and speak with the artist, few members of the advance unit will leave Friday.)

These informal receptions for regional artists have become popular among art center visitors, giving them the opportunity to meet and speak with the artist. The reception is open to the public.

Winnebago Bar Seeks New Court

Claim Court Needed to Match Facilities of Nearby Counties

Board in Favor

The bar communications to the state officials reported the county board of supervisors favors such action and argued that the Winnebago County Bar Association has notified the State Judicial Council it intends to appeal to the legislature when it reconvenes late this month.

The litigation equivalent of the appeal to the legislature when it reconvenes late this month to add a third circuit to the county court branch to the county court.

The bar has also asked for endorsement of the proposal by the council, in the hopes that it may help to persuade the legislature this year authorized half a million dollars to build a new court building in the county.

The council's back-branches around the state, in helping in such legislative preparation for the operation of the uniform county court act next year. Several additional courts January 1.

Ask More Orderly Account of Fines At Police Station

Appleton Officials Planning to Give Receipts to Those Who Pay

A more orderly accounting of some kind of machine will be given to the public safety committee when it meets Thursday to go over budgets for departments under its jurisdiction.

Attending Tuesday's meeting were Mayor Mitchell; Chief Walter Hendricks; Ald. Alvin E. Tews, chairman of the finance committee; Ald. Robert Stumpf, chairman of the public safety committee; City Clerk Elden Broehm; Kurt Koletzke, member of police and fire commission; and Frank Okada, city auditor.

No Daily Account
Persons paying parking meter violations fines do not get a receipt. Those posting bonds for traffic violations do get one.

However, no accounting is made of money taken in at the station each day or week. All revenue is turned over to City Treasurer Ray Feuerstein once a month.

The money is kept in a drawer or box at the station until it is given to Feuerstein.

With a cash register or a machine similar to those used by bank tellers all monies taken in would be recorded, and persons paying fines or posting bonds would get a receipt.

Ask Committee Approval
If a bank teller machine was used the receipt would be similar to that received when depositing money in a checking account.

Oshkosh Drivers Fined $100 for Reckless Driving

OSHKOSH — Two Oshkosh drivers were fined $100 each this morning by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane on charges of reckless driving.

Darrell M. Davidson, 22, 917A East Irving Ave., had been found guilty of the charge Monday afternoon. He was arrested Aug. 22 on a complaint signed by an Appleton man that Davidson almost hit his wife at the Winnebago County fairgrounds. He reported that Davidson refused to stop and that several other youths gave him Davidson's name and address.

James M. Welton, 24, 1014 N. Main St., was arrested at 7:15 p.m. Sunday by Oshkosh police after he was noticed driving at a high rate of speed at West Seventh Avenue and Oregon Street. Welton pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge Tuesday morning.

Retardation Council to Discuss Fund Raising

The Outagamie County Council for Retarded Children, Inc. will discuss an annual fund raising drive at the meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Standard Manufacturing Company. Funds are needed for Plamann School and the nursery class.

The group reports that the Wisconsin Council for Retarded Children, Inc. is studying a more effective scholarship program to insure more qualified teachers for retarded children, and that President Kennedy has appointed a group of scientists and doctors to study the causes of mental retardation.

Man Beats Wife, Fined by Judge

John H. Schinke, 31, 826 1/2 W. Fourth St., Monday was fined $50 for beating his wife. He was arrested before Municipal Judge Gustave Keller. The offense took place Oct. 12.

Okay Hiring Of Inspector For Sewer Job

MENASHA—The board of public works will hire a resident inspector for the city's Ninth Street storm sewer project, the council decided Tuesday night. The sewer job contract will be checked to make sure it provides for a full-time inspector. City Engineer M. J. Noth explained the contract provides that McMahon Engineering Co., the consultant, will have its own personnel for general supervision and inspection. The council wants to have full-time inspection and supervision to ensure that specifications are met.

In the contract, about $19,000 is set up for inspection. The sum led to the resident inspector question. Aid. Edward Stinski believed the city building and plumbing inspector, Allen E. Merrill, should be in charge of the storm sewer job and the home builders and plumbers should provide their own inspections. Pipe in the $1.2 million job will be laid beginning next week. It will drain the north and north east parts of the city, occasionally flooded at times of high storm water runoff.

Mrs. Doris Fiestadt

Receives Plaque

Telephone Operator Cited for Rescue

SEYMOUR — Mrs. Doris Fiestadt, chief operator for the General Telephone Co. here, was honored by the Badger State Chapter of the Independent Telephone Pioneers of America for her efforts which saved the life of a Seymour man last year. Mrs. Fiestadt received an engraved plaque and a cash award of $25.

While on duty at the Seymour switchboard on Dec. 13, 1960, Mrs. Fiestadt answered a signal from a local four-party line but received no response. Aware of the fact that the people on this line included a blind man, a man who had recently been quite ill and an elderly man who lives alone, Mrs. Fiestadt contacted relatives of these people in an effort to learn where the signal had come from.

After being assured that there was no trouble at the homes of the blind man and the one who had been ill, Mrs. Fiestadt realized the call must have come from the home of the elderly man, Ervin Daymon. She immediately contacted the owner of a motor company near Daymon's home. This man, and an employee of a neighboring bank, went to Daymon's home away from a stop light at Algonquin and operating a car with and found him on the floor ma Boulevard and Wisconsin faulty brakes. He was arrested Oct. 1 by county police on Winnebago County Trunk BB near removed to a hospital where he recovered.

The time from the appearance he clocked her at 44 miles an hour in the 25 mile zone and said she grabbed her drivers license to get him into the squad car. until the physician reached the away from him when he was Casperson slashed both of the Daymon home was 10 minutes. writing out a speeding ticket. wrists Friday while in jail and The doctor said Mrs. Fiestadt's He testified that later on State was confined to Mercy hospital prompt action saved the man's life.

Driver Fined for Speeding; Other Charges Dismissed

OSHKOSH — Gail M. Schaetzl, 28, route 1, Oshkosh, was a 40 mile zone and then slowed fined $56 Tuesday by Municipal down to 10 miles an hour. He Judge Arnold J. Cane after she then said she drove faster when was found guilty on two counts he tried to pass her.

Delay Sentencing of Ronald B. Casperson, 22, 212 Cedar St., Neenah, was stayed until Dec. 21 by Judge Cane. Casperson was ordered to report back to court at owner of a motor company near Daymon's home. This man, and an employee of a neighboring bank, went to Daymon's home away from a stop light at Algonquin and operating a car with and found him on the floor ma Boulevard and Wisconsin faulty brakes. He was arrested Oct. 1 by county police on Winnebago County Trunk BB near removed to a hospital where he recovered.

Chaplain Says Adults Intolerant of Children

Protestant Minister at Reformatory Talks
To Roosevelt School PTA in Neenah

NEENAH — Adults are intolerant of children, the Protestant chaplain at Wisconsin State Reformatory, Green Bay, said Tuesday. "We give them presents and many material things, but do we give them much of ourselves?" up for not giving the 'real thing' I think it is true that adults make it possible for youngsters to become involved in crimes," he said. Speaking at Roosevelt School Parent-Teacher Association's meeting, the Rev. H. Werner Neumann said, "We think that things take the place of love, tolerance and acceptance."

Can't Tolerate "We can't even tolerate them in the churches any more." We have cry rooms or junior or children's church, where we shove them in a room with a loud speaker," he said. "As early as three years, we begin sending them off to nursery school."

On Sunday afternoons we see long lines of children waiting to go into movie theaters, because we are impatient, intolerant of them at home where they may create noise or disturb the adults, he pointed out. "We live in neighborhoods meant for adults, not for children. We have fenced in playgrounds for the children, where we can shut the door," he said. The chaplain, who has been at the Reformatory for the past three years and who previously served as Lutheran institutional chaplain in Lima, Ohio, said, 85 per cent of the young men at the Green Bay institution come from

Neenah Man To Serve on Safety Group

NEENAH — Robert Ison, 723 Chestnut St., Wednesday was elected to the sectional executive committee of the Pulp and Paper section of the National Safety Council. The election was part of the National Safety Congress, which opened in Chicago Monday and ends Friday. Ison is safety services manager of Kimberly-Clark Corp. Election of the Pulp and Paper Executive Committee, representing one of the important industrial sections of the Council, was in recognition of his work as a safety specialist in the industry. The National Safety Council is a federally chartered nonprofit association dedicated to safety in all fields of accident prevention.

Assessments Set on New Street Jobs

Menasha Council Levies Taxes on Ninth Street Homes

MENASHA — Special assessments were levied Tuesday by the common council on several streets in newly annexed areas north of Ninth Street between Warsaw and Manitowoc streets. The assessments will pay for street construction, sewers, water mains, curb and gutter. No one appeared at the public hearing preceding the council session. Streets involved are Appleton, Calder, DePere, 11th, 12th, 10th, Ninth, and London. Contingency funds will supply $3,000 for poor relief operations of the Menasha-Neenah Relief Group in the balance of 1961. Ald. Morgan Eckrich asked whether the relief group would need more for relief "of war widows of the 32nd Division" quest had been made before the Committee, representing one of the important industrial sections active duty, to be at least a year. The council approved $1,377 for Christmas decorations, a new type to be mounted on downtown light posts. Of the cost, $715 would be paid this year and the remainder put in next year's budget.

Two Neenah Hunters Pay for Violations

OSHKOSH — Two Neenah men paid fines in Municipal Court Tuesday for shooting at migratory water fowl before sunrise Sunday. Gerald Heuer, 21, 312 Main St., was fined $30 after entering a plea of no contest, and Howard Jape, 34, 311 Division St., was fined $15 after pleading guilty. Both were arrested by Conservation department officers.

Catholic Priest Returns After 3 Years in Moscow

WORCESTER Mass. AP—A Catholic priest has returned from three years service in the Soviet capital with praise for the Russian people.

"If they like you," said the Rev. Louis F. Don, "they will give you their last slice of bread. They are the most hospitable people I had great sympathy with them and found in general they are sympathetic. I became very attached to some. They are wonderful people and very, very happy, with few exceptions."

Don was interrupted in 1959 when he was named chaplain of the American colony in Moscow. He succeeded the Rev. George L. Bissonette, who was expelled by the Soviet government under a 1935 treaty. An Assumptionist, always on the edge of the post-war era, Don said he found it easier to mingle with the peasants in rural areas than with city dwellers. Of the former, he said: "They are the most hospitable people I had great sympathy with them and found in general they are sympathetic. I became very attached to some. They are wonderful people and very, very happy, with few exceptions."

Grand Chute Picks Three District Heads

Lagoon-Type Plant For Sewage Disposal Offered for Study

GRAND CHUTE — An investor, a hospital farm manager and a real estate man will head the newly created sanitary sewerage district for a period of two years, it was decided Tuesday by the Grand Chute Town Board.

Named as commissioners were William Zuehlke Jr., director of investments for the Aid Association for Lutherans, Richard J. Garvey, a real estate dealer, and Herman Kloes, farm manager at Outagamie County Hospital.

The three will begin serving terms immediately, according to Town Clerk Leslie Woldt, and will receive an undetermined salary drawn from revenue of the district. A study to determine the salary for the commissioners will be undertaken when the commissioners meet the first time.

None of the appointees were at the town board meeting.

One of the initial problems the commission will have to solve will be the building of the $350,000 sewage treatment plant and interceptor sewer mains. The sanitary district is bounded on the north by Wisconsin Avenue, on the south by Prospect Street, on the east by Appleton's west city limits and on the west by U.S. 41.

The town board will suggest the commission study the possibility of a lagoon-type sewage facility in an attempt to bring the cost of the project down. A letter read Tuesday to the town board from a Cambridge, Md., real estate firm said that Cambridge had built a lagoon filter "at 40 per cent less than we would have paid for the disposal plant."

The lagoon emits less odor and is easier to maintain and construct. Town board members are exploring similar lagoons within the county, including a plant being constructed near Delafield in Waukesha County.

The members approved an ordinance outlawing the carrying of or discharge of firearms in the boundaries of Grand Chute. The law goes into effect immediately.

Tipsy Driver Pays $100 Fine

Found Guilty in Justice Court, Gets Time to Pay Penalty

WAUPACA—Kenneth R. Much, 42, route 1, Waupaca, paid a fine of $100 and costs Monday to Police Justice George Whalen on a charge of drunken driving.

Much was found guilty of drunken driving last Wednesday. He was given until Monday to pay the fine or file a petition for appeal to Circuit Court.

OSC Conservative Club to Hear Talk On United Nations

OSHKOSH — William A. Rusher, publisher National Review magazine, will address the Oshkosh State College Conservative Club at 8 p. m. Monday in the Union Lounge. His talk will be open to the public.

Rusher will speak on "The United Nations, Promise or Menace?"

Rusher has served as associate counsel to the U.S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee investigating communism and as a member of the executive committee of the Young Republican National Federation. He is a graduate of Princeton University and received his law degree from Harvard in 1948. For the last seven years he has made four survey trips to Europe.

Woman Hospitalized After Traffic Crash

MENASHA — A Neenah woman was taken to the Theda Clark Memorial Hospital Tuesday, following a line-of-traffic collision on Washington street.

Treated and released from the hospital was Mrs. Emma Borgman, 64, route 1, Neenah.

Mrs. Borgman's car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Gerald F. Burke, 20, 1512 E. Winnebago St., Appleton, at 2:13 p.m.

Burke told police his brakes failed as he tried to stop the car after Mrs. Borgman halted for a red light.

The entire front end of the Burke car and the trunk rear bumper, right rear tail light and gas tank of the Borgman car were damaged.

Collects Them, but Favorite for Eating

MORRISTOWN, N.J. AP — James A. Crotty has collected over 1,000 spoons in the last 14 years, each with a history.

One commemorates the coronation of William and Mary in England in 1689; another is a rare French spoon made in 1412; the year Joan of Arc was born and a third was made in Arabia in 1313. Asked which is his favorite spoon, Crotty replied "That's easy—the one I eat with."

Missionary From Africa to Speak at Appleton Church

Miss Dorothy Adam, a missionary to Guinea, Africa, will be guest speaker at the annual missionary conference at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Appleton this week. She will speak at 7:45 p.m. Thursday and Friday and at the 10:45 a.m. service Sunday.

Miss Adam was born in Guinea and educated at Mamou, Africa. She graduated from bible college and nurse's training in the United States. During two terms as a missionary she has served as a nurse and dentist. She did general station work as well.

At the close of the conference the annual missionary pledge will be received. This is one of the means used by the church to raise funds for missionary work.

Miss Adam will use color slides to illustrate her talks on missionary work in Africa. The Rev. Roy Stenlund invited the public to attend.

Appleton to Give Sendoff To Guardsmen

with ticker tape, to see the men off when they leave Appleton by train about 8 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Clearing Point
Mayor Clarence Mitchell is acting as a central clearing point for contributions. Checks should be made payable to the Mayor's 32nd Division Committee. All money collected will be used to finance going-away activities and to provide some money for the companies to take care of items not provided by the government.

The committee met immediately after the press dinner at the Elks Club to get things underway and later consulted with officers of the guard companies.

Robert Greiner represents the Elks and is chairman of the committee. Other members are William H. Pifer, executive vice president and general manager of the H. C. Prange Co.; John Aybourn, of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce; Kenneth E. Davis and David Brooker, Appleton Post-Crescent; Gene Steinhorst, Radio Station WAPL; Ray Brock, WHBY; and Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke.

Make Donations
The Appleton Common Council will present framed resolutions wishing the units "God-speed" at tonight's council session.

Several Appleton firms already have made contributions to the Guard units. The Post-Crescent has agreed to provide each company with six Post-Crescent subscriptions while they are at Fort Lewis; H. C. Prange Co. has donated two washing machines and a coffee maker; Elm Tree Bakery has provided buns for two company parties held earlier this week. Radio Station WAPL is arranging for a continuing program on activities of the unit while it is on active duty and Karras Restaurant, which caters the meals at the army, is providing free coffee as needed. It is expected the men will consume 250 to 300 gallons before they depart Wednesday.

Local 337 of the Musicians Union has furnished music for company dances.

Guard members need chess and checker games, cribbage boards, playing cards, stationery and other writing materials.

Committee to Vote Today on County Job

The two camps of Outagamie County's public property and insurance committee ceased fire this noon in their skirmish over the life or death of the superintendent of public buildings job.

They tabled until 1:30 p.m. a vote on what kind of resolution they will submit to the county board. The resolution will recommend one of two things: 1. That only the method of selecting the superintendent be changed by an amendment to the ordinance that created the job, or 2. That the job be abolished.

Two committee members expressed their favor of alternative No. 1. One supported No. 2. A fourth was silent. A fifth was absent.

Fund Request Before Council

Neenah School Board Wants Study On Buildings

NEENAH — The board of education's request for funds sufficient to provide preliminary architectural services for a new Edgewood area grade school and expansion of Neenah High School will be submitted to the common council at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The high school plans include a wing on the east side and alterations and additions to the present structure. Cost of these various projects is estimated at $1,938,000.

Mayor Chester S. Bell said he expects the council will honor the board of education's request.

There can not be the slightest question as to the need for an additional grade school in the Edgewood area to serve that population section," said the mayor.

"It also appears from the report of the citizens study committee that there is an equal need for expansion of the high school," he continued. "The report indicated these buildings were vitally needed and should be ready for occupancy by September of 1962."

carries with it an automatic loss of six driving points.

Bayer was arrested early in the morning of Aug. 3 after a policeman saw him make a turn in the wrong direction at a signal light on Racine Street.

Kaukauna Citizens Hit New Sewer Ruling

Claim City Attempts to Outlaw Cisterns; Matter to be Studied

KAUKAUNA — Attempted enforcement of an ordinance prohibiting drainage of storm water into sanitary sewer lines resulted in considerable discussion by common council members Tuesday. Numerous complaints have been received.

To clarify the situation, the matter was referred to a board of public works for study. Earlier this year the council hired a man to make an inspection of the city to determine violations of the ordinance.

Letters of warning were left at homes where residents were believed to be violating. Property owners with cisterns were particularly disturbed, many getting the idea the city was "attempting to outlaw cisterns."

Aldermen pointed out cisterns are to be equipped with cut-off valves whereby storm water can be diverted to an outside drain pipe rather than have a cistern overflow and drain into a sanitary sewer system. Homes without cisterns must be equipped with sump pumps which pump drainage water outside the home rather than permit flow into new police car as recommended by the fire and police commission.

Enforcement was undertaken in an effort to prevent sanitary sewer back-up in periods of heavy rain.

Sewer Request
A request for a sanitary sewer from a resident on Ducharme Street was referred to the engineering and board of public works for study as the resident to be bonded for the two driving charges served lives in an area where Clayton Clark, 26, of 308 E. Washington St., New London, is being provided sanitary sewer service held on $50 bond for drunkenness.

The two friends were arraigned before Municipal Judge Gustave Keller Monday Friday they were both before Judge Keller when Clark was fined $50 for driving 65 miles an hour in Appleton. They were arrested again at 9:30 p.m. Sunday after almost hitting the squad car and, police said, driving past a stop light at Wisconsin Avenue and Drew Street.

Police said when they stopped the car the two men tried to change places. Both pleaded innocent to the charges and the trial was set for 10 a.m. Nov. 1.

Man Almost Hits Police Car; Denies Drunken Driving

A New London man who police say almost ran into a squad car when he drove past a stop sign Sunday night is being held in Outagamie County jail on charges of drunken driving and driving after revocation.

Senators Try Hand Acting For Movies

Iowa, Arizona Men No Longer in Senate, But They're Type Cast

BY JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two distinguished former members of the U.S. Senate emoted today on a Hollywood sound stage scoring as perfect examples of type casting.

Guy Gillette of Iowa and Henry Fountain Ashurst of Arizona are cast as U.S. senators—what else—in "Advise and Consent," the movie version of the controversial best seller about Washington politics. On their first day of shooting, the venerable pair got a real inside look at Hollywood.

They were made up by Del Armstrong. Lana Turner's favorite makeup man.

Explosive Director
Their director is Hollywood's most explosive—Otto (the Terrible) Preminger. Austrian-born Preminger has been labeled the only dictator ever to make a movie about a democracy. But he was all sweetness and light with the bona fide senators.

But nearly everybody else caught it. Three crewmen were fired—and later rehired—during one scene that required 15 takes. The many takes were needed because the Hollywood senators—Walter Pidgeon, Don Murray, Peter Lawford, Charles Laughton, et al.—had trouble with their lines.

No Trouble, They
The real senators, natural politicians both, had no such trouble. Gillette, a New Dealer who first went to Washington with Franklin D. Roosevelt, got a typical Hollywood twist with his casting.

"I play a Republican whip," he laughed somewhat sheepishly. And Ashurst, also a Democrat, who went to Washington when Arizona became a state in 1912, got an even bigger switch.

A Sleeper?
In his 28 years in the Senate, Ashurst was famed as one of its greatest orators. In the movie he spends much of his time sleeping in the Senate chambers.

"The director spends most of his time teaching me how to snore," said Ashurst. "Me, who has made my living for years talking, now getting a fortune to keep quiet. What irony."

Neither Gillette, 82, nor Ashurst, 87, would reveal what Preminger is paying them as actors. But both agreed that it was way above the senatorial pay of $22,500 per year.

"But neither as long nor as steady," added Ashurst.

Former United States Senators Guy Gillette, left, of Iowa and Henry F. Ashurst, center, of Arizona get their instructions from director Otto Preminger, right, in Hollywood as they played the roles of senators in the motion picture version of "Advise and Consent," a story about Washington politics. Looking on is actor Peter Lawford, also a senator in the film. Gillette is 82, Ashurst 87.

Walter Slezak Tries Different Kind of Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Slezak, who usually appears on the stage in comic exercise, is tackling a different kind of role in "The Classmate," a drama recently added to Broadway's schedule for this season. He will portray a man fighting German satire by the husband-is-to-direct.

Murder Plots Vie With Fun On TV Tonight

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (channel 11) — Carl Reiner and Mel Brooks join The New Steve Allen Show tonight. Reiner interviews Brooks, who is 2,001 years old. These two don't work from a prepared script; the basic questions are prepared and the rest is ad lib, so we'll see what develops. Another guest artist tonight is the talented vocal-ist, Barbara McNair, who sings "Hallelujah." And The Newsboys' Jazz Band — 17 ex-newsboys from 15 to 19 years old — do "Cherry Point."

7:30-8:30 (channel 2) — The Checkmate crew even finds time for crime on vacation. Sebastian Cabot is the only guest at a hunt- lodge, when he realizes some- one is trying to kill John Dehner, who plays the proprietor. The field of suspects is narrow — just Dorothy Malone, as the target's wife, and Ed Nelson, as the more is the victim-elect, Leo G. Carroll the police inspector, Philis Thaxter the wife's suspicious cousin.

8-9 (channel 4-5) — The Perry Como Show is loaded with guests tonight. Chief among them are Martha Raye and Rita Moreno— good locked-door mystery on Nak- ed City tonight. The victim is Lu- Rita dances to a "West Side Story" medley. Other players are ment center tycoon. His five chief Paul Lynde, Kaye Ballard, Sandy aides all have good reason to want Stewart and Jack Duffy. Also on the premises tonight is Teddies of flashbacks but Paul Weems, the band leader with whom Como sang for many years, and some of the old Weems crew.

Explosion in Chicago

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—An assortment of wide gains highlighted a stock market which advanced unevenly early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .80 at 256.90 with industrials up 1.20, rails up .50 and utilities up .30.

Most of the pivotal issues showed fractional gains but many stocks were unchanged or fractionally lower.

Some special issues rose 1 to 4 points. These gainers were few and far between.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon's prediction of a larger-than expected federal deficit tend to increase inflation talk. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's offer to withdraw the year-end deadline for signing a German peace treaty removed some nervousness in Wall Street. Although both these factors were bullish there was no uniform response in the market.

Steel and autos were unchanged to a bit higher. Aircraft missiles continued to fade. Some of the merger candidates among the oils made progress. Tobacco were on the upside.

Helene Curtis fell about 3 points following news of an explosion at the company's cosmetics plant in Chicago.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.34 at 704.12. Prices on the American Stock Exchange rose in quiet trading.
